2019 Annual Security and Fire Safety Report

Downtown Phoenix, Polytechnic, Tempe, and West campuses; ASU Barrett & O'Connor Washington Center; ASU California Center; and ASU Colleges at Lake Havasu.

The federal Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act, Clery Act, requires colleges and universities, both public and private, participating in federal student aid programs to disclose campus safety information, and imposes certain basic requirements for handling incidents of sexual violence and emergencies. Disclosures about crime statistics, fire statistics, and summaries of security and fire policies are made once a year in an Annual Security and Fire Safety Report.

Message from the Arizona State University Police Department

Dear ASU Community,

On behalf of the men and women of the Arizona State University Police Department, we welcome all new and returning students, visitors, staff and faculty. The police department's mission is to ensure student, staff and faculty success. We do that by providing a safe and secure environment in which to study, live, work and conduct research.

The ASU Police Department is based on the policing model of community-oriented policing and is a full-service police department operating 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. All officers are certified police officers in the State of Arizona through The Arizona Police Officer Standards and Training Board. The police department is certified and accredited through CALEA, Commission on Accreditation of Law Enforcement Agencies, and IACLEA International Association of College Law Enforcement Administrators. We strive to create a safe and healthy environment through community-focused solutions and engagement. As part of this philosophy, communication, listening, respect, transparency, legitimacy, procedural justice, and trust are critical to everyone's success. As an agency, we rely on all ASU community members to help identify and report potential safety and security concerns. This includes individuals identified as Campus Security Authorities, who have a unique responsibility to keep ASU a safe and secure campus.

The ASU Police Department is one of many dedicated departments offering services that are instrumental to success in our community. This publication includes information on crime reporting procedures, university policies, safety tips, prevention programs, fire safety statistics for ASU campuses and statistical information required by law. This information is the result of a university-wide effort that includes the Dean of Students Office, Student Rights and Responsibilities, ASUPD, the Fire Marshall's office, Housing, Counseling and Consultation, Environmental Health and Safety, Student Health, the Office of University Rights and Responsibilities, Parking and Transit Services, the Office of General Counsel, and Facilities Development and Management, to name a few.

Community engagement and safety is critical to the success of all those who attend, work or conduct research at ASU. I encourage you to consider the information provided in this report and how we can proactively work together to keep our campus safe and secure. Contact us if you have any questions at 480-965-3456.

Sincerely,

Michael L. Thompson

Chief of Police

Clery Report preparation

[1]The U.S. Congress enacted the Crime Awareness and Campus Security Act in 1990, which requires postsecondary institutions to disclose campus crime statistics and security information. In 1998, the act was renamed the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act – Clery Act – in memory of a student who was slain in her dorm room in 1986 in Pennsylvania.

The Violence Against Women Reauthorization Act of 2013 includes the Campus Sexual Violence Elimination Act, which affords additional rights to campus victims of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence and stalking. VAWA also amended the Clery Act and provided additional reporting requirements.

These federal statutes require higher education institutions to give timely warnings of crimes that represent a threat to the safety of students or employees and to publicize their campus security policies. They require crime data to be collected, reported, and disseminated to the campus community as well as to the U.S. Department of Education. The purpose is to provide students and their families with accurate, complete, and timely information about safety on campus so that they can make informed decisions.

ASU Police Department prepares the text of this Annual Security and Fire Safety Report through a collaborative team approach, which involves other departments within the university including the Office of Student Rights and Responsibilities, University Housing, Counseling Services, Title IX, Health Services, Athletics, and the Office of General Counsel.

ASU Police collects statistical data provided by reports to ASU Police, other ASU campus security authorities and other law enforcement agencies. ASU does not use any personally identifying information in public record keeping including Clery Act reporting and disclosures such as the Annual Security and Fire Safety Report, and daily crime log.

Arizona State University distributes a notice of the availability of this Annual Security and Fire Safety Report by October 1 of each year to every member of the university community. Anyone, including prospective students and employees, may obtain a paper copy of this report by contacting the Clery Act Compliance Coordinator via email at PDClery@asu.edu or by visiting https://cfo.asu.edu/crime-statistics.

Annual Security and Fire Safety Report

The 2019 Annual Security and Fire Safety Report is prepared to inform you of ASU's campus crime statistics, security policies, fire statistics, and steps you can take to enhance your safety. It also includes information on and links to policies, and programs regarding sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, stalking, and alcohol and drug prevention campaigns.

In August 2018, the Thunderbird School of Global Management relocated to the ASU Downtown Phoenix campus, and the former Glendale site closed.

This report includes information for the ASU Downtown Phoenix, Polytechnic, and Tempe campuses, as well as the ASU Barrett & O'Connor Washington Center, the ASU California Center and the ASU Colleges at Lake Havasu, which qualify as separate campuses for Clery Act purposes.

Police jurisdiction on ASU campuses

Downtown Phoenix, Polytechnic, Tempe and West campuses

ASU Police Department

The ASU Police Department is committed to the safety of ASU students, faculty and staff. The ASU Police Department is a dually accredited law enforcement agency. Since 1997, the department has been accredited through the Commission on Accreditation for Law Enforcement Agencies, Inc., CALEA. In March 2016, the department received accreditation from the International Association of Campus Law Enforcement Administrators, IACLEA. Accreditation demonstrates to the community and law enforcement colleagues that ASU Police meets the very highest standards.

The ASU Police Department is vested with the authority and responsibility to enforce all applicable laws. ASU Police officers have the authority and duty to conduct criminal investigations, arrest violators and suppress campus crime. ASU Police are empowered by the State of Arizona to provide police and other quality safety services to the university system.

ASU Police officers are duly sworn peace officers under A.R.S. § 13-3871, are authorized to carry firearms, and have the same authority as municipal police officers to use police powers of arrest. The ASU Police Department has primary jurisdiction over ASU-owned and operated properties, except for the ASU Barrett & O'Connor Washington Center, the ASU California Center and the ASU Colleges at Lake Havasu.
The Arizona Peace Officer Standards and Training Board (AZPOST) certifies ASU Police officers.
In addition to attending a departmental onboarding and a 585-hour AZPOST academy, each ASU Police officer completes supervised and evaluated on-the-job field training based on a 15-week training program. Officers must also successfully complete a one-year probationary period. ASU Police provides law enforcement services 24 hours a day, 365 days a year.
The telephone number is 480-965-3456.

The ASU Police Department also employs unarmed police aides to assist with campus security.
Police aides are full and part-time department employees who serve as the "eyes and ears" of ASU Police. They take reports for minor incidents, provide basic emergency services and assist police officers as needed. Police aides complete supervised and evaluated on-the-job field training based on a six-week training program. Police aides are assigned to the Downtown Phoenix, Polytechnic, Tempe and West campuses.

The ASU Police Special Victims Unit is comprised of detectives that investigate cases involving sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, stalking and crimes against children. The SVU assists in providing specialized service as well as training to other officers at ASU and campus communities.

The SVU also includes two victim advocates who work closely with the SVU detectives. The victim advocates help to ensure crime victims on any ASU campus, as well as witnesses and family members, receive free, confidential support. Victim advocates are available for any crime victim and provide support, information, and resources. These resources include, but are not limited to, assisting with and explaining reporting options, guidance through the criminal justice system, helping to obtain orders of protection and accompanying victims to court. Victim advocates also assist with explaining victim rights and victim compensation and can refer victims to campus and community resources.

Agreements with other law enforcement agencies

The university’s mission of education, research, and community service are supported by the law enforcement services and educational programs offered by the ASU Police Department. Through mutual-aid agreements for the investigations of all crimes, ASU Police works closely with the surrounding law enforcement agencies including Tempe, Phoenix, Mesa, Glendale, Paradise Valley, Maricopa County Sheriff’s Office, Maricopa County Attorney’s Office, Maricopa County Community Colleges Police Department, and Arizona Department of Public Safety. These agreements enable all agencies to assist each other when and where needed. ASU also has a memorandum of understanding with Lake Havasu City Police specifically addressing the investigation of sexual offenses.

Monitoring criminal activity at student organizations' non-campus locations

The Tempe campus is located within the City of Tempe limits and is the only ASU campus with non-campus property that has officially recognized ASU student organizations. Reporting crimes and incidents

Arizona State University has several ways for campus community members and visitors to report crimes, serious incidents, and other emergencies to law enforcement and appropriate university officials [PDP 203-06][2]. Regardless of how and where you decide to report these incidents, it is critical for the safety of the entire university community that incidents be reported immediately and accurately so ASU Police, or the responsible jurisdictional agency, can investigate the situation and determine if follow-up actions are required, including issuing a Timely Warning or emergency notification.

ASU urges people to report all crimes and suspicious activity in an accurate and timely manner. If the victim elects not to or is unable to report, a third party may make the report. [PDP203-06]

Crimes in progress and serious crimes that have just occurred should be reported by calling 911 from any phone. However, if the situation does not allow for a voice call to be made safely, text-to-911 can be used to report crimes within Maricopa County and to the Lake Havasu Police Department for the ASU Colleges at Lake Havasu campus.

Whenever possible, the actual victim of the crime or witness should call directly. First-hand information is usually more accurate and complete. You may report a crime if someone gives you the information and leaves but include this fact when reporting. Crimes or suspected crimes may be reported by telephone, in person, or with the mobile application. The ASU LiveSafe app is available through Google Play and the App Store.

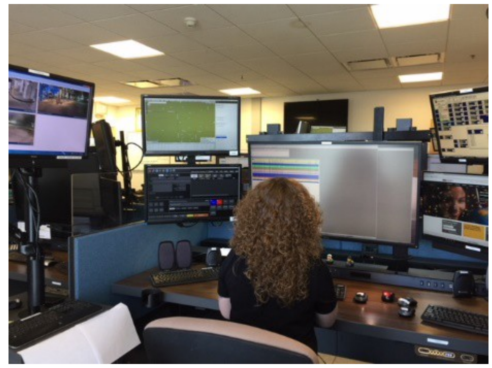

Non-emergency crimes occurring on ASU property at the Downtown Phoenix, Polytechnic, Tempe and West campuses that do not involve a suspect can be reported online through the ASU iReport system on the ASU website https://cfo.asu.edu/ireport. Non-emergency crimes can also be reported electronically via email to asupolice@asu.edu, but delays in response should be expected.

ASU Police officers or police aides will respond to all calls for police service. Emergency calls shall take precedence; however, all calls will be answered as soon as possible.

[2] See PDP 203-06: Reporting Crimes at https://www.asu.edu/aad/manuals/pdp/pdp203-06.html

ASU Police Communications Center

The ASU Police Communications Center is staffed 24 hours a day, seven days a week, by trained public safety dispatchers. Our communications center is centralized and handles both emergency and non-emergency calls. Emergency phone calls and officer radio transmissions take precedence; however, all calls will be answered as soon as possible.

Dispatchers receive emergency and non-emergency phone calls, along with emergency text-to-911 notifications, from the university community requesting police or other emergency services using a multi-line telephone system while monitoring security cameras, fire and intrusion systems. Dispatchers also monitor the ASU LiveSafe mobile app dashboard for non-emergency incidents. Dispatchers enter calls with pertinent information from callers into a Computer Aided Dispatch system to be disseminated to officers who respond.

What to expect when calling 911

When calling to report a crime or incident, be ready to give information on the following questions:

- Where is the incident occurring?
- What is happening?
- When did the incident occur?
- Who is involved?
    - Where and when the suspect(s) were last seen.
    - Suspects(s) description (including gender, race, age, height, weight, hair color/length, clothing, facial hair, tattoos/scars).
- Weapon(s), if any, and a description.
- Other relevant information.

In addition to the importance of reporting, timely information assists responders in developing warnings for the university community.

Cell phones do not automatically register a caller's name and exact location information in the 911 system. When calling 911 from a cell phone, tell the dispatcher you are calling from a cell phone and provide the location of your emergency. Dispatchers will ask questions regarding the emergency and may confirm information for a proper agency response. Cell phone 911 calls may be re-directed to another law enforcement agency depending on the location of the emergency.

ASU Barrett & O'Connor Washington Center 911 calls are directed to the Metropolitan Police Department.

ASU California Center 911 calls are directed to the Santa Monica Police Department.

ASU Colleges at Lake Havasu 911 calls are directed to the Lake Havasu City Police Department.

Downtown Phoenix campus 911 calls are directed to the Phoenix Police Department.

Text-to-911

Call if you can, text if you can't.

Text-to-911 can be used to report emergencies or crimes in progress occurring on campuses within Maricopa County to the ASU Police, at the ASU Colleges at Lake Havasu to the Lake Havasu Police, and at the ASU California Center to the Santa Monica Police.

Text-to-911 provides equal access to emergency services for the deaf and hard of hearing community as well as providing an alternative method of reporting emergencies when traditional avenues are unavailable. Text messaging provides wireless subscribers the ability to send text messages to Public Safety Answering Points using the common emergency access number of 911. Currently, only four wireless networks operate on the Text-to-911 system: Verizon, Sprint, AT&T, and T-Mobile.

Text-to-911 system limitations include delivery delays. There also currently is no mechanism that will notify the texter if a message failed to be delivered.

Because delays can occur, Text-to-911 should be used only when the situation does not allow for a voice call. Remember, call if you can, text if you can't.

Confidential Reporting

Licensed counselors and pastoral counselors are exempt from Clery Act reporting requirements. To be exempt from disclosing reported offenses, pastoral or professional counselors must be acting in the role of pastoral or professional counselors. The exemption is intended to ensure that these individuals can provide appropriate counseling services without an obligation to report crimes they may learn about. This exemption is intended to protect the counselor-client relationship. The legally recognized privilege does have some exceptions, and there may be situations in which counselors are, in fact, under a legal obligation to report a crime.

However, licensed counselors and pastoral counselors are encouraged, if and when they deem it appropriate, to inform a person receiving counseling of the procedure for reporting crime on a voluntary, confidential basis for the purpose of including the crime in the annual disclosure of crime statistics.

When making such a report, the individual is not required to disclose personally identifying information.

A victim's personally identifying information (e.g., name, home or other physical address, contact information, social security number, date of birth) will never be included in the Clery crime log, the Annual Security Report, or any other publicly available recordkeeping related to the Clery Act.

Voluntary, Anonymous Reporting

If you would like to report a crime, whether as a victim or witness, but do not wish to reveal your identity, you may contact ASU Police at 480-965-3456 or use the ASU LiveSafe mobile application available through Google Play and the App Store. Additional information is helpful to fully investigate and prosecute crime; however, ASU Police will respond to all reports of suspicious or criminal activity.

For the ASU Barrett & O'Connor Washington Center, you may submit tips via text that allows photo and video attachments to also be sent. To contact Washington, D.C. Metropolitan Police Department via text, send your message to 50411 or call the tips line directly at 202-727-9099.

For the ASU California Center, you may submit anonymous tips to the Criminal Investigations Tip Line at 310-458-8449.

For the ASU Colleges at Lake Havasu, contact Silent Witness at 928-854-TIPS or 928-854-8477.

Lake Havasu Police also accepts tips via text. Type LHCPD, your message, and send to 274637 (CRIMES); message and data rates may apply. Lake Havasu Police reports can be generated online at https://p2c.lhcaz.gov/ReportIncident/IncidentEntry_Disclaimer.aspx, or by using the Lake Havasu City Police app available through Google Play and the App Store, that allows for tip reporting, which includes photos.

For the Downtown Phoenix, Polytechnic, Tempe or West campuses, you also may contact the Silent Witness Program at 480-WITNESS or 480-948-6377 to notify ASU Police.

Institutional Reporting

ASU understands that not all persons want to report a matter directly to the police department. If you would like to report a crime without involving the police, you may also choose to report a matter to the ASU Hotline for Ethics and Compliance from any campus. Call 877-SUN-DEVL or 877-786-3385. For more information about the hotline service, visit https://cfo.asu.edu/asu-hotline.

Do not use the hotline to report a significant emergency or dangerous situation with an immediate threat to the health or safety of students, faculty or staff. Always call 911 to report emergencies.

Crimes reported anonymously will be included, as appropriate, in the Annual Security Report.

Services to help you stay safe and prevent crime

Community Policing

Community-based policing is a collaborative effort between a police department and community that identifies problems of crime and disorder and involves all elements of the community in the search for solutions to these problems. It is founded on close, mutually beneficial ties between police and community members.

ASU Police uses a neighborhood approach as a community policing strategy. ASU Police officers and aides collaborate with residence hall and associated department staff, as well as community members to address public safety issues.

In addition to partnering with the community, collecting and analyzing reported crime data plays an important part in this process. The data is reviewed and then educational, enforcement, and deterrent strategies are employed to reduce the occurrence of crime in our community.

The ASU Police Department believes that preventing crime is a shared responsibility. For every crime committed, there must be a desire, an opportunity, and the ability to commit the crime. While you cannot control another's desire or ability to commit a crime, you can control the opportunity by doing the following:

- Always remain alert and aware of your surroundings.
- Always secure valuable items with a proper lock.
- Do not walk alone at night.
- Never leave valuable items unattended.
- Record the make, model and serial numbers of your valuables.
- Report any unusual or suspicious activity you witness.

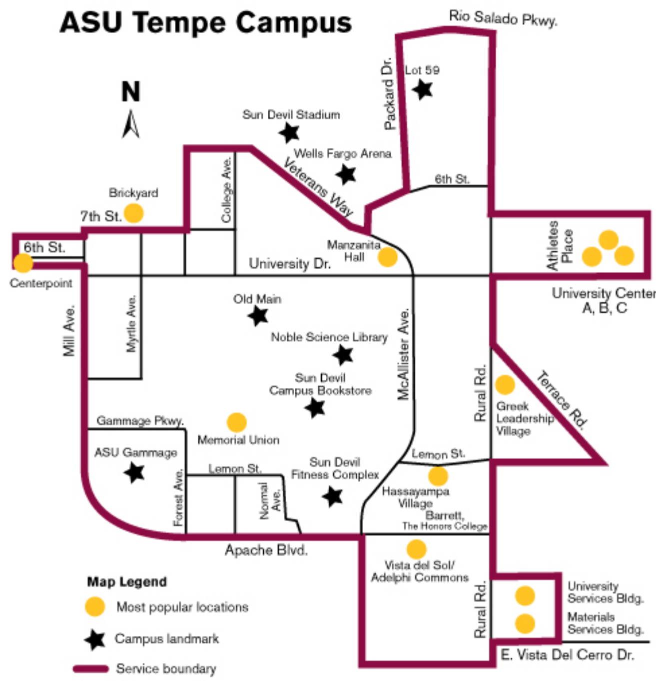

Safety Escort Services

Tempe Campus – Student Government Escort

Undergraduate Student Government provides a free safety escort service on the Tempe campus. Rides across campus are provided by trained student drivers and are available daily from 7 p.m. to 2 a.m. during the academic school year. Summer service is available Monday through Thursday from 7 p.m. until 10 p.m. Services are not available during university holidays and breaks.

Escort requests can be made through the ASU LiveSafe mobile app, or students can call 480-965-1515 to make arrangements.

The safety escort vehicle will meet you and drive you to any Tempe campus destination. Rides must be requested at least 15 minutes before closing.

ASU Colleges at Lake Havasu City – Security Department Escort

Safety escorts are provided by on-site security personnel between 5 p.m. and 7 a.m. for Monday through Friday, and 11 p.m. to 7 a.m. on Saturday and Sunday. Call 928-716-0729 for safety escorts.

Downtown Phoenix, Polytechnic, Tempe and West campuses – Police Escorts

Safety escorts can be, and often are, provided by the ASU Police Department for the four Phoenix Metropolitan campuses. To request a safety escort at any time, contact ASU Police at 480-965-3456.

Emergency Call Boxes

There are emergency call boxes located throughout the Downtown Phoenix, Polytechnic, Tempe and West campuses, and the ASU Colleges at Lake Havasu. They are easily identifiable by the blue light on the top of the pole with Emergency printed on it or by a bright yellow box mounted on a metal pole. To operate the call box, press the call button, and a police dispatcher will answer immediately and provide assistance. If the area remains unsafe, you may move to the next call box location and activate it until police arrive. Your location is identifiable to police with each activation.

The emergency phones are not only located near campus buildings but also in many university-operated parking lots and parking structures. The emergency phones are directly linked to the ASU Police on the Polytechnic, Tempe and West campuses.

The emergency phones on the Downtown Phoenix campus have a red call button, are illuminated with a blue light, and will connect directly to Phoenix Police.

The Lake Havasu City Police Department receives and responds to emergency call box activations at the ASU Colleges at Lake Havasu.

Safety Applications

LiveSafe App

ASU community members on the Downtown Phoenix, Polytechnic, Tempe and West campuses gain more mobile reporting power for reporting crimes and emergencies with the free ASU LiveSafe mobile app available through Google Play, the App Store, or the ASU Police website. Smartphone users who download the app can report tips to ASU Police, make emergency calls and perform other functions that help enhance their personal safety and security, including requesting the Safety Escort Service on the Tempe campus. Although app functionality is available to any ASU student, faculty, staff, or parent across all campuses, ASU Police only responds to the Downtown Phoenix, Polytechnic, Tempe and West campuses for emergencies. Users at the ASU Barrett & O'Connor Center, ASU California Center, and Lake Havasu colleges are encouraged to download the ASU LiveSafe app to take advantage of features outside of crime reporting.

The app allows users to communicate anonymously with ASU Police in real-time via audio, pictures, text and video. Friends and family also can virtually walk an app user home. The app's SafeWalk feature uses the phone's GPS to locate an app user's progress on a web-based map. Users may deactivate SafeWalk once they have reached their destination safely. Users have total control over whom they invite to use this feature, and they also may disable access at any time. The feature is a one-time use and cannot be used by the friend or family member to monitor a person's location at a later time.

The ASU LiveSafe app is an additional step ASU takes to improve the safety of the living, working, and studying environment that the university community enjoys.

While phone calls and written reports will always be accepted and acted upon by ASU Police, ASU LiveSafe users can report tips in new ways and with more accurate location information.

AlertDC

AlertDC is the official District of Columbia communication system used by the City of Washington, D.C., Metropolitan Police Department, and the Washington, D.C. Office of Emergency Management to send alerts, notifications, and updates via email or text. Users may specify the method(s) in which they want to receive the alerts and the alert types. ASU Police Crime Prevention Unit

Because it is better to prevent crimes than to react to them, the ASU Police Department operates a full-time Crime Prevention Unit. This unit plans, coordinates, and implements crime prevention strategies through presentations on the Downtown Phoenix, Polytechnic, Tempe and West campuses. The Crime Prevention Unit also conducts building security assessments and inspects campus grounds to address areas of safety concern.

The ASUPD Crime Prevention Unit partners with ASU Housing, Student Rights and Responsibilities, Parking and Transit, Greek Life and other departments to conduct ongoing educational and experiential programs throughout the year. These programs inform students, staff, and faculty about important campus security policies, procedures, and practices. These programs are free and include topics such as active shooter response, bicycle safety and theft prevention, drug and alcohol abuse, home security, office safety, personal safety, preventing acquaintance sexual assault, and residence hall security. All presentations can be prepared or tailored to meet special requests.

ASU Police encourages students, faculty, staff, and visitors to be responsible for their safety and security, as well as the safety and security of others. Sun Devils Keep Sun Devils Safe by being alert and aware of their surroundings, as well as being alert and aware of the demeanor and behavior of those in their vicinity. All Sun Devils should immediately report tips and crimes to the ASU Police Department.

Information about personal and property safety is provided throughout the year at various ASU events.

The following presentations are available to the ASU community. The frequency that the presentation is offered is provided in parentheses after each presentation name. Presentations are not limited to those times but are also provided upon request as needed. You may obtain more information, request a presentation, or inquire about programs and schedules by contacting the ASU Police Crime Prevention Unit.

The ASU Police Department Crime Prevention Unit will customize and/or design crime prevention programs on topics, which include sexual assault, drugs and alcohol violations, and traffic citations, upon request. Prevention and Awareness Programs

Sexual violence, including sexual assault, sexual harassment, relationship violence, domestic violence, and stalking can have a profound impact on a victim or survivor's academic, social, and personal life, and negatively affects the university community at large.

Arizona State University is committed to combatting these complex social problems and fostering a positive learning, working, and living environment that promotes every individual's ability to participate fully in the ASU experience. Through advocacy, university policies, awareness efforts, and education and training programs, every ASU community member should be prepared to contribute actively to a culture of respect.

ASU's Primary Prevention and Awareness Programs

ASU seeks to foster and promote healthy, positive, and mutually respectful relationships. ASU's new students and new employees are introduced to our primary prevention and awareness programs during orientations. Primary prevention programs are initiatives and strategies intended to stop relationship violence, domestic violence, sexual assault and stalking before they occur. These programs seek to change behavior in a healthy and safe direction, encourage bystander intervention, and emphasize risk reduction. Awareness programs increase audience knowledge, share information and resources to prevent violence, promote safety, and reduce perpetration.

Prevention and education efforts are intended to enhance communication and awareness about support services and resources for victims. ASU strives to foster collaboration among students, faculty and staff to create messages and programs that cultivate a community of care. Programs and initiatives surrounding sexual assault, sexual harassment, dating violence, relationship violence, and stalking are continually evolving to meet the needs of the ASU community and beyond.

In addition to orientation programs, another primary prevention initiative is the Community of Care program. The 30-minute online education program educates students on the code of conduct, bystander intervention, and community standards. The program highlights priority areas, including alcohol and marijuana use, sexual misconduct, academic integrity, managing stress, and provides resources to students who are struggling in any of these areas and is part of the on-going effort to increase bystander empowerment.

Ongoing Prevention and Awareness Campaigns

In addition to primary prevention and awareness programs, ASU provides ongoing prevention and awareness campaigns for all current students and employees. These programs increase understanding of the topics and skills necessary to address relationship violence, domestic violence, sexual assault and stalking.

Consent and Respect is an online education program that addresses sexual violence, as well as available resources, bystander intervention, mitigating risk and understanding consent. Several academic colleges currently use Consent and Respect as part of the ASU 101 course for new students.

There are a wide variety of wellness education programs around sexual misconduct, including both in-person programs and awareness campaigns. Ongoing efforts include continued development and updating of the ASU-specific Sexual Violence Prevention website. Also, to better serve our community, ASU has created and is distributing the Sexual Assault and Misconduct Resource Guide, which provides information on obtaining immediate medical assistance; psychological support resources; confidential reporting; anonymous reporting; Student Rights and Responsibilities Office investigation reporting guidelines; and investigatory components when reporting to law enforcement.

According to ABOR Student Code of Conduct [5-308][3], Consent in the context of sexual activity means informed and freely given words or actions that indicate a willingness to participate in mutually agreed upon sexual activity.

Consent may not be inferred from 1) silence, passivity or lack of resistance, 2) a current or previous dating or sexual relationship 3) acceptance or provision of gifts, meals, drinks, or other items, or 4) previous consent to sexual activity.

Consent may be withdrawn during sexual activity. Consent to one form of consensual sexual activity does not imply consent to any other form of sexual activity.

Consent may not be obtained through physical force, violence, duress, intimidation, coercion, or an expressed or implied threat of injury.

Consent may never be given by a person who is: incapacitated by drugs, alcohol or otherwise, unconscious, asleep, or otherwise physically or mentally unable to make informed rational judgments. Alcohol or drug use does not diminish one's responsibility to obtain consent and does not excuse conduct that violates the Student Code of Conduct.

Consent cannot be given by someone who, by age, circumstances, or other factors, is deemed by law to be incapable of giving consent.

This definition of consent will be used in all disciplinary proceedings.

Campus SaVE Act

Sexual Assault, Domestic Violence, Dating Violence and Stalking

The Campus Sexual Violence Elimination Act – SaVE Act – was passed in March 2013 as part of the Violence Against Women Reauthorization Act, VAWA. As a result, universities must include statistics on incidents of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence and stalking.

ASU prohibits dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault and stalking as defined for purposes of the Clery Act. ASU recognizes that sexual misconduct, including sexual violence, is a societal problem, and members of the university and college communities have not been immune. Such violence has a profound impact on a victim's academic, social, and personal life, and negatively affects the experiences of their friends and families, other students, and all university community members.

Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 protects individuals from discrimination based on sex in any educational program or activity operated by recipients of federal financial assistance. Sexual harassment, which includes acts of sexual violence, is a form of sex discrimination prohibited by Title IX. ASU does not discriminate on the basis of sex in the employment, education programs or activities it operates. ASU's Title IX Coordinator, 480-965-0696, works with the Office of University Rights and Responsibilities, which is available to investigate and resolve allegations of discrimination, harassment, and retaliation, including all forms of sexual misconduct involving faculty, staff, and other ASU affiliates. The Title IX Coordinator also works with ASU's Student Rights and Responsibilities, which investigates and resolves allegations involving Student Code of Conduct violations. All complaints of such conduct are taken seriously, and appropriate action will be taken to hold violators accountable and to prevent recurrence.

ASU strives to foster a positive learning, working, and living environment that promotes every individual's ability to participate fully in the ASU experience. This participation should be without fear of sexual harassment, sexual violence, sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking. ASU works to combat these social problems through university policies (e.g., [ACD 401][4], [SSM 104-01[5]], [SSM 104-04[6]]), awareness efforts, education programs, and resources; for more information visit https://sexualviolenceprevention.asu.edu.

ASU has a comprehensive campaign involving awareness, education and prevention strategies, for new and returning students and employees, to address sexual harassment, sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence and stalking. The program is culturally relevant, inclusive of diverse communities and identities, sustainable, and is responsive to the needs of the ASU community. ASU uses strategies identified by the Center for Disease Control as being effective in reducing sexual violence in communities.

An overview of the programs is provided in the Ongoing Prevention and Awareness Campaigns section of this document.

In fall 2015, new students taking ASU 101 classes began participating in education to raise awareness about sexual violence, prevention, and bystander intervention. Currently, all new ASU students – first-time freshmen, transfers and new graduate students – are expected to complete A Community of Care. The online educational module was designed to provide information and training about ASU's values and code of conduct, enhance awareness of sexual violence and its impact on college students, and provide critical information on what to do if you or someone you know experiences sexual violence. Expanded sexual assault prevention training and education are also provided to all faculty and staff. Information on ASU's numerous, ongoing training and education programs dedicated to combating sexual violence, sexual assault, sexual harassment, domestic violence, dating violence and stalking is located at https://sexualviolenceprevention.asu.edu. The web portal provides a comprehensive list of campus and other available resources.

In 2017, ASU launched Workplace Behavior, an online training module to prevent workplace discrimination and harassment. The training highlights ASU's continued commitment to a positive workplace environment. The training includes information on how to identify and prevent the prohibited behavior, and where and how to report concerns. All ASU employees are required to complete the training and can enroll online at https://cfo.asu.edu/workplacebehavior.

An overview of ASU's bystander training is provided in the Ongoing Prevention and Awareness Campaigns section of this document. As part of the training, attendees learn about safe and positive options for preventing harm and intervening when there is a risk of sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, or stalking. Training includes recognizing situations that could increase the potential for harm, understanding conditions that facilitate violence, overcoming barriers that keep people from intervening, safe and effective intervention options, and steps for acting to intervene. Examples include the following:

Step Up and Do Your Part – Bystander Intervention

Our community expects that you will step up and help others in need. It's the Sun Devil way to create a powerful network of students who watch out for each other, show concern for each other's well-being, and help prevent harmful situations from occurring. How and when to intervene are often difficult decisions. Your first concern should always be safety. If you or someone else is in immediate danger, call 911 immediately. Included below are some general tips about intervention when the situation does not pose an immediate threat of danger.

1. Pay attention. It is easier for you to notice something amiss if you are aware of what is going on in your surroundings. If you get the sense something is wrong, trust your instincts. If you are observing a situation where someone is encouraging another person to become intoxicated with alcohol or other drugs – step in.

2. Take personal responsibility. People often do not intervene because they believe it is not their responsibility or someone else will help the person. Think about what you would want someone to do for you or for a friend or family member. As Sun Devils, we want ASU to be a safe community and it is important to watch out for your Sun Devil family members.

3. Decide how to help. Start by assessing the situation. Determine whether it is safe for you to intervene on your own, whether you should call others to help you, and whether to involve the police. Thinking about these questions will help you determine how you can effectively address the situation.
    - De-escalate: Be calm and respectful.
    - Offer help: Signal your concern and willingness to act. It's okay if you are turned down at first or altogether; simply offering help can change the dynamics.
    - Slow things down: Give people time to extricate themselves, if that's what they want.
    - Disrupt the situation: Intrude. Make a joke. Change the topic. Spill something. Be a third wheel.

4. Early Intervention. It is important to intervene as soon as you notice someone might be in danger. It is typically safer and more effective to intervene before a situation escalates. You should never intervene if you feel your personal safety is at risk. If you feel unsafe, you should get the police involved.

Refer peers to resources. There are a variety of campus resources that can help someone who has experienced sexual violence. Educate yourself about these resources, which will prepare you to help someone who may disclose sexual violence to you. If someone tells you they have been sexually assaulted, believe them, be there for them, and share information about resources available to help them. For more information, visit https://sexualviolenceprevention.asu.edu.

Training also focuses on risk reduction. Options for acting are presented with the intent of decreasing bystander inaction, increasing victim empowerment, promoting safety and addressing conditions that facilitate violence.

Cases involving allegations of dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault and stalking, reported at ASU are promptly, fairly, and thoroughly investigated. ASU provides victims with written notification of their rights and options that let them know they are not alone including, but not limited to, providing guidance on finding a safe place, filing a police report, talking with counselors, seeking medical care, and changing student living, academic, transportation, or work situations. To learn more, visit https://sexualviolenceprevention.asu.edu.

A professional counselor, who is engaged in providing mental health counseling to members of the institution's community and who is functioning within the scope of the counselor's license or certification, has no Clery Act crime reporting obligations. However, professional counselors are encouraged, if and when they deem it appropriate, to inform a person receiving counseling of the crime reporting procedure on a voluntary, confidential basis for the purpose of including the crime in the annual disclosure of crime statistics. When making such a report, the individual is not required to disclose personal identifying information.

The victim's personally identifying information (e.g., name, home or other physical address, contact information, social security number, date of birth) will never be included in the Clery crime log, the Annual Security Report, or any other publicly available recordkeeping document related to the Clery Act.

Preserving Evidence

When sexual violence such as sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, or stalking is alleged, it is important to preserve evidence when possible. Such evidence may assist in proving that the alleged criminal offense occurred or may be helpful in obtaining a protective order. Physical evidence is best collected within 72 hours of the assault but can be collected up to 120 hours (five days) of the assault. Try to preserve evidence even if you are unsure at the time whether you wish to pursue criminal charges or other actions to address the violence because that will preserve your options for doing so.

To preserve evidence, the following tips can be used:

Sexual Assault:

Evidence of sexual assault can be preserved by not showering or bathing, douching, urinating, brushing your teeth, or laundering, changing or discarding clothing and/or bedding until evidence can be collected.

Evidence can also be preserved by saving call records, text messages, social media communications, and other evidence that may assist in an investigation.

Every sexual assault survivor has a right to have a free forensic medical examination, which will be administered by a registered nurse who has received advanced training to provide care and treatment to sexual assault survivors.

Even if you are not sure that you want to file a police report, it can be helpful to have any available evidence collected in case you decide to file a report with law enforcement later.

Domestic and Dating Violence:

Not all experiences of domestic or dating violence cause visible injuries. If visible injuries are present, it can be helpful to document them with photographs, if it is safe to do so. It is also important to seek medical attention if possible and safe to do so.

Stalking:

If you have experienced stalking, it can be helpful to an investigation to retain any evidence of that behavior, including documentation of any unwanted communication (written, oral, electronic), posts (such as on social media), gifts, etc.

Investigation Activation

Reporting to the police activates a process designed to determine what happened. The order in which the steps occur may vary slightly between police departments based upon the specifics of the case. The steps involved in reporting are an initial interview of the victim, a forensic examination conducted by a certified Forensic Nurse Examiner (optional), witness interviews, evidence collection (clothing, bedding, video, receipts, text messages, emails, etc.) and review.

For ASU Police cases, which meet the elements of sexual assault or sex offense, as defined in the Arizona Revised Statutes, will be submitted to the County Attorney's Office for prosecution. For other campus locations, local law enforcement will make the determination to submit the case for prosecution. Prosecution includes preliminary hearing, court date, and verdict. The ASU victim advocate can assist you with navigating the system and can be contacted at 480-965-0107.

Reporting sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking to ASU Police does not require filing criminal charges. However, it does activate all support systems for the victim, including campus resources. Victims may notify ASU Police or local law enforcement directly. However, if the victim so elects, the ASU Office of Student Rights and Responsibilities or a Campus Security Authority will assist the victim in notifying law enforcement authorities.

As part of the criminal justice process in Arizona, the victim is given a document listing their rights under the Arizona Constitution, Article 2, Section 2.1.(A), which preserves and protects the victim's right to justice and due process. It also lists the rights which automatically attach to the victim and a list of rights the victim must request, along with information on victim compensation, orders of protection/injunctions against harassment, and a domestic violence legal advocacy resource with contact information. The victim also receives a Community Resources and Links sheet, which provides telephone numbers and webpage addresses for local resources.

A victim may decline to notify law enforcement, but still take advantage of all other ASU and local support systems. When a student or employee reports to ASU that he or she has been a victim of dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault, or stalking, whether the offense occurred on or off campus, ASU will provide the student or employee with a written explanation of the student or employee's rights and options.

Confidentiality: ASU will maintain the confidentiality of the information it receives, except where disclosure is required by law; necessary to protect the health, safety, or security of others; or is necessary to facilitate legitimate university processes, including the reporting, investigation and resolution of student code of conduct violations as well as the resolution of discrimination, harassment or retaliation allegations. ASU will also complete publicly available recordkeeping, including Clery Act reporting and disclosures, without the inclusion of personally identifying information about the victim. If a "timely warning" is required related to an act of sexual violence, ASU will not disclose the names of the victims.

Free Forensic Sexual Exam

The Federal Government under the Violence Against Women Reauthorization Act requires states, which receive federal funding under VAWA, as Arizona does, to provide forensic sexual examinations to all victims regardless of whether police involvement is desired. The forensic sexual exam is always free of charge to the victim of a crime of sexual violence. ASU encourages victims to get the exam to preserve evidence should they later decide to seek prosecution. It may also assist in getting an order of protection.

If a victim chooses to report a crime of sexual violence to the ASU Police Department, the police will assist the victim in contacting a Sexual Assault Response Team Center. However, as noted, a victim may obtain a forensic sexual examination without police involvement. To obtain a free exam, a victim should contact:

Orders of protection and injunctions against harassment

Civil court orders are issued in an attempt to prevent continuing acts of violence or harassment. A person who is being victimized has the right to file a petition with a magistrate, justice of the peace, or superior court judge for an order of protection or injunction against harassment.

The relationship of the petitioner and the defendant, as defined in [A.R.S. § 13-3601], determines which order applies for orders issued within Maricopa (Downtown Phoenix, Polytechnic, Tempe and West campuses) and Mojave County (Lake Havasu), Arizona.

The relationship of the petitioner and the defendant as defined in [D.C. Code § 16-1003] defines the relationships required to obtain a Civil Protection Order within the District of Columbia (ASU Barrett & O'Connor Washington Center).

The relationship of the petitioner and the defendant as defined in [CA FAM § 6211(a)] must be domestic in nature to obtain a Domestic Violence Restraining Order within the State of California (ASU California Center). A Civil Harassment Injunction may be obtained for all other instances of harassment as defined in [CA Civ Pro §527.6].

Protection Orders

An order of protection is a civil court order that prohibits a specific person from committing an act of harassment or domestic violence against another person or persons. The order of protection is available based on the relationship you have with the party you are seeking protection from (e.g., current or former spouse, someone with whom you live or have lived, someone with whom you share a child, etc.) and must be issued by a judge and served by a police officer, deputy sheriff or process server. The protection order will be effective for 12 months from the service date unless quashed by the court.

Protection orders can restrain a defendant from continuing acts of violence and harassment by prohibiting the individual from contacting or coming in contact with you as described in the order. A protection order can also provide you with legal recourse if the defendant violates the order.

Protection orders cannot resolve landlord/tenant disputes, change custody or visitation orders, or guarantee your safety.

Injunction Against Harassment

An Injunction Against Harassment does not depend upon relationships and is available if the conduct of any person is "Harassment" as defined by law [A.R.S. § 13-2921]. In Arizona, harassment is a series of acts (at least two events) over any period of time that is directed at a specific person, and that would cause a reasonable person to be seriously alarmed, annoyed or harassed and the conduct, in fact, seriously alarms, annoys, or harasses the person and serves no legitimate purpose.

In the District of Columbia, a Restraining Order can be obtained for all incidents of harassment defined in [D.C. Code § 22-3133] involving parties who do not meet the relationship definitions as provided in [D.C. Code § 16-1003]. In the District of Columbia, harassment is a defined as an individual engaging in a course of conduct directly or indirectly, or through one or more third persons, in person or by any means, on two or more occasions, to:

(a) Follow, monitor, place under surveillance, threaten, or communicate to or about another individual;
(b) Interfere with, damage, take, or unlawfully enter an individual's real or personal property or threaten or attempt to do so; or
(c) Use another individual's personal identifying information.

In the State of California, a Civil Harassment Injunction can be obtained for all incidents of harassment defined in [CA Civ Pro § 527.6] involving parties who do not meet the relationship requirement definitions as provided in [CA FAM § 6211(a)]. In the State of California, harassment is defined as unlawful violence, a credible threat of violence, or a knowing and willful course of conduct directed at a specific person that seriously alarms, annoys, or harasses the person, and that serves no legitimate purpose. The course of conduct must be that which would cause a reasonable person to suffer substantial emotional distress and must actually cause substantial emotional distress.

Applying for an Order of Protection or Injunction Against Harassment

Orders within Maricopa County and Mojave County, Arizona

To apply for an order in Maricopa County (Downtown Phoenix, Polytechnic, Tempe, or West campuses), or Mojave County (Lake Havasu) the court needs your contact information. If the person you need protection from (the defendant) does not know where you live, the court can hide your address so the defendant will not see it in your order of protection paperwork.

You will need to provide information on what acts of violence or threatening conduct occurred leading you to apply for protection and addresses to which you do not want the defendant to come. In conjunction, you need to provide the names and relationships of other persons for whom you may request protection, whether the defendant has access to or possesses firearms, the nature of your relationship to the defendant, and whether there are any courts involved in the relationship (divorce, child custody, etc.).

You will then appear before a justice of the peace who will hear your sworn testimony and review evidence. The justice will decide whether your order will be issued immediately or whether a hearing will be set. There are no fees associated with applying for any of these protection orders at the time of publication of this document.

Once issued by the justice court, the order or injunction will be in effect when a private process server, a law enforcement officer, or a constable serves it to the defendant. It remains in effect for one year from the date it is served. If the defendant violates the order or injunction, contact local law enforcement immediately. If you are in physical danger, call 911. Victims are reminded to remain cautious and have a personal safety plan.

Orders within the District of Columbia

To apply for a civil protection or restraining order in the District of Columbia (ASU Barrett & O'Connor Washington Center), the court will need your contact information. If the person you need protection from (the defendant) does not know where you live, the court can shield the address. Should any future motions related to the order be initiated by the defendant, the court will act as the recipient of the motion on behalf of the petitioner and forward all documents to the petitioner's shielded address.

You will need to provide information on what acts of violence or threatening conduct occurred leading you to apply for protection, addresses you do not want the defendant to come to, the names and relationships (if applicable) of other persons for whom you may request protection, and whether the defendant has access to or possesses firearms.

You will then appear before a judge who will hear your sworn testimony and will decide whether your order will be issued immediately or whether a hearing will be set. There may be fees associated with filing a temporary restraining order, but none associated with civil protection orders as of the time of publication of this document.

Once issued by the judge, the order will be in effect for up to one year from the date the defendant is served by a private process server, a law enforcement officer, or constable. If the defendant violates the order, contact local law enforcement immediately. If you are in physical danger, call 911. Victims are reminded to remain cautious and have a personal safety plan.

To obtain additional information on the forms necessary to file a petition (form requesting the orders), contact the court responsible for issuing orders closest to your campus.

Orders within the State of California

To apply for a civil harassment injunction or domestic violence restraining order in the State of California (ASU California Center), the court will need your contact information. If the person you need protection from (the defendant) does not know where you live, the court can withhold this information.

You will need to provide information on what acts of violence or threatening conduct occurred leading you to apply for protection, addresses you do not want the defendant to come to, the names and relationships (if applicable) of other persons for whom you may request protection, and whether the defendant has access to or possesses firearms.

You will then appear before a judge who will hear your sworn testimony and will decide whether your order will be issued immediately or whether a hearing will be set. There may be fees associated with filing a restraining order or civil harassment injunction.

Once issued by the judge, the order will be in effect for up to one year from the date the defendant is served by a private process server, a law enforcement officer, or constable. If the defendant violates the order, contact local law enforcement immediately. If you are in physical danger, call 911. Victims are reminded to remain cautious and have a personal safety plan.

To obtain additional information on the forms necessary to file a petition (form requesting the orders), contact the court responsible for issuing orders closest to your campus.

Emergency Orders of Protection for Domestic Violence or Dating Violence

If the court has closed for business, an emergency order of protection can be granted by a judge in writing, verbally, or telephonically to protect a person who is in imminent danger of domestic or dating violence. Emergency orders of protection are obtained through local law enforcement agencies. If you need an emergency order of protection and are in immediate danger, call 911. If you need an order of protection and are not in immediate danger, contact the corresponding campus police department.

For the ASU Barrett & O'Connor Washington Center, contact the Metropolitan Police Department at 202-727-9099.

For the ASU California Center, contact the Santa Monica Police Department at 310-395-9931.

Remember – if you are in immediate physical danger, always call 911

The law enforcement agency will dispatch an officer to review your situation. If appropriate, the officer will contact the court after hours to request the court grant an emergency order. If the order is granted, it will be a temporary order only good until the close of the next day of court business following the day the emergency order was issued. You will need to go to the location where protective orders are issued, the very next business day, to complete and file a petition for a permanent order of protection.

“No Contact” Orders

ASU administration does not issue orders of protection or injunctions against harassment but may issue “no contact” orders through the Dean of Students Office or University Housing. If a “no contact” order is deemed appropriate, it will be issued, and the involved parties will be contacted. The stipulations may include but are not limited to, no contact via phone calls, e-mails, voicemails, text messages, letters, cards, gifts, social networking messages, or any other type of correspondence. This also includes both direct communication and indirect communication. i.e., you may not use other people or social networking sites as a means of communication. A “no contact” order is an administrative order. Violations of the “no contact” order are subject to the student or employee disciplinary policy and procedures. You may telephone the dean’s office at 480-965-6547 or contact a community assistant or other member of the University Housing staff to make the report of the violation. The report will be reviewed by the Dean’s Office or housing staff and a determination made.

Interim and Other Protective Measures

The university, through the Dean of Students Office, will take interim measures, designed to support and protect individuals and the university community, at any time. Such interim measures might include restrictions on contact, class or work schedule alterations, leaves of absence, increased safety measures, student housing changes, or course/class academic adjustments. If it is ultimately determined that university policy has been violated, then these measures may also become part of any permanent sanction/discipline against the violator. Factors that might be considered during the determination of interim measures process include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Severity or pervasiveness of the allegations.
- Any continuing effects on the complainant.
- Whether the complainant and alleged perpetrator share the same residence hall, dining hall, class, transportation or job location.
- Whether other judicial measures have been taken to protect the complainant (e.g., civil order of protection or an injunction against harassment).

Even if a victim elects not to report an incident of alleged sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking to campus police or local law enforcement, ASU can help the victim.

ASU will provide written notification to victims about options, available assistance, and how to request changes to academic situations, living situations, transportation and working situations. The notification will also address the availability of protective measures. Even if a victim chooses not to report to the police, the Police Department victim advocate can provide confidential assistance with creating a personal safety plan. Contact the ASU Police Department’s victim advocate at 480-965-0107.

If an individual requests anonymity after a report is filed, the Title IX Coordinator will consider the request, the due process rights of all parties involved, the severity of any alleged harassment, and the potential risk of a hostile environment for others in the community in order to determine whether the request can be honored. The requesting party will be advised of the determination.

ASU also provides written notification to students and employees about existing counseling, health, mental health, victim advocacy, legal assistance, visa and immigration assistance, student financial aid, and other services available for victims both within the university and in the community. Additionally, when a student or employee reports that he or she has been a victim of sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, or stalking, whether the offense occurred on or off campus, ASU will provide the student or employee with a written explanation of the student or employee's rights and options.

University Complaint and Disciplinary Proceedings for Students and Employees in Cases Involving Sexual Assault, Domestic Violence, Dating Violence and Stalking

In cases of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence and stalking, ASU provides prompt, fair, and impartial proceedings, which include a fact-finding investigation, meetings, and may include an administrative hearing before the University Hearing Board. A written explanation of rights and options is provided as part of the administrative process. The process for filing a disciplinary complaint against a student and the various steps in the complaint review process are found in the Student Code of Conduct[7] and the Student Code of Conduct Procedures[8].

Filing an allegation of misconduct against a student can be done by completing the Campus Community Incident Report and submitting it via email to deanofstudents@asu.edu, or by dropping it off at the Office of Student Rights and Responsibilities on any ASU campus.

For the ASU Colleges at Lake Havasu, ASU Barrett & O'Connor Washington Center, and ASU California Center, the Campus Community Incident Report should be submitted via email to deanofstudents@asu.edu. If you have questions about the report form, please call 480-965-6547.

The process for filing a complaint against an employee and the steps in the complaint review process are found in [ACD 401][9] and [P20][10] . The circumstances of the allegation will determine the type of proceeding. The various policies and procedures applicable to administrators, faculty, academic professionals, and staff are found in [SPP 808],[11] [SPP 809],[12] [ABOR 6-201],[13] [ABOR 6-302],[14] and [ABOR 6-101].[15] For sworn law enforcement officers, discipline will be administered in accordance with A.R.S. § 38-1101 et seq.

If your complaint is regarding an ASU employee, please contact the Office of University Rights and Responsibilities via email at URR@asu.edu or call 480-965-5057 to request an optional complaint form and/or to schedule a consultation.

Administrative proceedings shall be conducted by officials who do not have a conflict of interest or bias for or against the complainant or the respondent. Proceedings also shall be conducted by officials who receive annual training on issues related to sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence and stalking. ASU staff who conduct proceedings receive training on how to investigate and administer a hearing process that is prompt, fair, and equitable. This training includes, but is not limited to, determining relevant evidence and how it should be used during a proceeding; proper techniques for questioning witnesses; basic procedural rules for conducting a proceeding; avoiding actual and perceived conflicts of interest; understanding sexual misconduct; overview of Title IX; overview of the Clery Act as amended by VAWA; neurobiology of trauma; victimology and predation; alcohol; incapacitation and consent; trauma-informed Title IX investigations and report writing; and adjudications. In 2017, investigators received Forensic Experiential Trauma Investigation training.

In these proceedings, the complainant and respondent are both entitled to the same opportunities to have others present during an institutional disciplinary proceeding, including the opportunity to be accompanied to any related meeting or proceeding by an advisor of their choice. If proper notification of meeting date, time, and place have been given, ASU is not required to cancel or delay meetings simply because an advisor could not be present. Neither the complainant nor the accused may have their advisor attend any meeting or proceeding without being present themselves. During the investigation process, the advisor can provide support, guidance, and advice, but the advisor is not an active participant in the meeting. ASU reserves the right to remove or dismiss any advisor who becomes disruptive or who does not abide by the restrictions on their participation. Both the complainant and the respondent shall be simultaneously informed, in writing, of the outcome of the disciplinary proceeding, the university's procedures for the complainant and the respondent to appeal the results of the disciplinary proceeding (if an appeal process applies), any change to the results that occurs before the time the results become final, and when the results become final, the rationale for the decision. A preponderance of evidence standard, which means more likely than not, will apply to all university proceedings.

The parties will be given timely and equal access to any information that will be used during informal and formal disciplinary meetings and hearings. Proceedings will be completed within a reasonably prompt timeframe, with the university endeavoring to complete proceedings involving VAWA offenses within 60 days. However, timeframes may be extended for good cause, and in such instances, a written notice will be provided to the complainant and the respondent with reasons for the delay.

Parties will receive a written decision regarding the investigation findings, determination of whether a policy violation occurred, and disciplinary measures when applicable. The decision will inform the parties of any available appeal process.

If a respondent student is suspended or expelled, either the respondent student or the complainant student may appeal to the University Hearing Board. A hearing will be scheduled within 90 calendar days. For the procedures, which apply to this appeal process, view the Student Code of Conduct Procedures[16].

ASU will, upon written request, disclose to the alleged victim of a crime of violence (as that term is defined in 18 U.S.C. § 16), or an incident of incest or statutory rape, the results of any disciplinary proceeding against the respondent student alleged to have committed such offense. If the alleged victim is deceased as a result of such crime or offense, the victim's next of kin shall be treated as the alleged victim.

University Responses to Alleged Policy Violations

Sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence and stalking are criminal acts that carry criminal and civil penalties under state and/or federal law. Such conduct is also contrary to ASU policy and can lead to the imposition of educational interventions, administrative actions, and/or disciplinary sanctions to address the conduct depending on the individual facts and circumstances of the case. University students found responsible for committing such conduct may be subject to one or more of the following[17]:

- Disciplinary sanctions include suspension (one semester to two years), expulsion, or degree revocation.
- Administrative actions include, but are not limited to, probation, warning, administrative hold, restricted access to university property, and interim actions such as interim suspension, removal from housing, or exclusion from one or more classes.
- Educational interventions include but are not limited to completing an educational program at the student's expense, writing a paper, engaging in community service, or any other assignment to address the student's conduct.

Arizona Board of Regents policy provides that any student suspended or expelled from Arizona State University, the University of Arizona, or Northern Arizona University is ineligible for admission, enrollment, or re-enrollment to ASU, UA, or NAU and requires the universities to notify one another of students that have been suspended and expelled.

ABOR has authorized the universities to adopt rules and procedures for considering a request for readmission. In the case of a suspension from ASU, when the time of suspension is nearing the end, the student desiring to return to ASU must reapply for admission. Before readmission to ASU is granted, the suspended student must meet with a Student Rights and Responsibilities staff member. At that point, conditions for readmission and additional requirements may be set, e.g., counseling and/or training. ASU will not grant readmission to an expelled student.

ASU employees, including student workers, found responsible for committing such conduct may face sanctions including, but not limited to, written reprimand, demotion, suspension (up to 30 days), termination of employment, or other action permissible under university policy.

Retaliation

ASU prohibits retaliation by its officers, employees, students, representatives, or agents against a person who exercises his or her rights or responsibilities under any provision of the Campus SaVE Act. No one may retaliate, intimidate, threaten, coerce, or otherwise discriminate against any individual for exercising his or her rights or responsibilities under the Act. Retaliation is also prohibited under [ABOR 5-308][18], Student Code of Conduct, and [ACD 401][19], Prohibition Against Discrimination, Harassment and Retaliation.

Sexual Violence Crime Prevention Programs

ASU Police, the Dean of Students Office, and other campus departments provide ongoing educational programing in the effort to reduce the risk of sexual violence. Beginning with summer orientation and continuing throughout the year, new and returning students are provided the opportunity to attend educational presentations related to sexual violence prevention and survival. To learn more, contact the ASU Police Crime Prevention Unit at 480-965-1972 or via email at ASUPolice@asu.edu, or refer to https://sexualviolenceprevention.asu.edu.

The ASU Police Crime Prevention Unit implemented a nationally recognized self-defense program, the Rape Aggression Defense System. R.A.D. is a 12-hour training course designed to maximize the physical defense abilities of women and men. Unlike other self-defense programs, R.A.D. teaches basic, practical techniques that require no special fitness level or equipment. The program's objective is to help people develop and enhance the options of self-defense should they choose to fight back while being attacked. ASU Police recognizes that not every tactic will work in every situation and that a person has the right to choose to comply rather than fight back. The goal is to train participants to fight back effectively should they so choose. Participants have the opportunity to test their newly learned defensive strategies during simulated attack scenarios. The R.A.D. program is an alliance of instructors who can assist one another with programs, equipment, experiences and insight. Most importantly, they allow every participant a lifetime return and practice invitation, at no charge; anywhere a R.A.D. program is offered.

ASU provides education addressing sexual violence and consent in a variety of formats. Information and resources are available online, and presentations are available on a variety of topics. A full list of presentations is provided in the Ongoing Prevention and Awareness Campaigns section of this document.

Sexual Violence Crime Prevention Tips

- Clearly communicate your sexual interests and boundaries with potential partners.
- Consistently check in with your partner to ensure consent has been given for each sexual act.
- State clearly, emphatically and forcefully if consent is not given.
- If you drink alcohol, do so in moderation, recognizing that alcohol and drugs limit your ability to make good decisions for yourself and others.
- Nine out of 10 college student victims of sexual assault knew their assailant. Perpetrators often use coercion, threats, isolation, and intimidation on their victims.

- Bystanders: Intervene if you see something happening that could lead to sexual violence. If you don't feel safe intervening on your own, call 911. Some signs to look out for include incapacitation, physical force, threats of violence, or coercion.
- Sexual violence can happen to anyone, and it is never the victim's fault. If you or a friend has experienced sexual violence, visit the Sexual Violence Prevention website to learn what you can do: https://sexualviolenceprevention.asu.edu.

Campus Sex Crimes Prevention Act – Information on Sex Offenders

The Campus Sex Crimes Prevention Act mandates that convicted sex offenders who are required to register under state law must also disclose their association with institutions of higher education when applicable. Specifically affected are those registered sex offenders who attend as students are employed by or employed at or volunteer at institutions of higher education. The CSCPA amends the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 to clarify that nothing in FERPA can prohibit an educational institution from disclosing information provided to the institution concerning registered sex offenders.

The Arizona Department of Public Safety has established the Arizona Sex Offender Info Center according to the requirements of A.R.S. § 13-3827. Arizona DPS is responsible for maintaining the site and annually verifying the addresses of registered sex offenders in the State of Arizona. For more information, visit https://www.azdps.gov/services/public/offender.

In California, a convicted sex offender must register with the chief of police in the city in which the sex offender resides. For information about sex offenders in California, visit https://www.meganslaw.ca.gov/mobile/Search.aspx.

In Washington, D.C., a convicted sex offender must register with the Metropolitan Police Department. Information about sex offenders can be obtained at http://sexoffender.dc.gov.

ASU Police, in conjunction with Arizona DPS and the Maricopa County Sheriff's Office, will notify the campus community of a registered sex offender, as required by law. The notification also can be found on the ASU Police website at https://cfo.asu.edu/campuscrime. For the District of Columbia, Lake Havasu and Santa Monica, primary notification is completed by the local law enforcement.

Missing student notification policy

In compliance with the Higher Education Opportunity Act, the university has established a Missing Student Notification Policy that describes the formal notification procedure to be followed when a student residing in on-campus housing has been reported missing for more than 24 hours. An on-campus student housing facility is defined as any student housing facility that is owned or controlled by the institution or is located on property that is owned or controlled by the institution and is within the reasonably contiguous geographic area that makes up the campus.

If you have reason to believe that a student who lives in on-campus student housing has been missing from campus for 24 hours, or less if suspicious circumstances exist, contact ASU Police at 480-965-3456.

Anyone at ASU who receives a report of a missing student must immediately contact the ASU Police Department at 480-965-3456. If the ASU Police Department receives a report of a missing student from a campus not within its jurisdiction, it must immediately notify the appropriate law enforcement agency.

For ASU at Lake Havasu Colleges, contact the Lake Havasu City Police Department at 928-855-1171. After contacting the Lake Havasu City Police Department, also notify campus security for ASU at Lake Havasu Colleges at 928-716-0729.

University Housing, in consultation with ASU Police or another law enforcement agency as appropriate, along with the Dean of Students or their designees shall make the official determination that a student is missing. To determine that a student is not missing, ASU staff or law enforcement must contact the student. Third-party reports that the student has been located will not be accepted.

Each ASU student residing in on-campus housing may register one or more individuals to be a contact strictly for missing person's purposes. This registration is done during the on-campus housing move-in process. A student's missing person contact information will be maintained confidentially by University Housing and will only be accessed by authorized campus officials. Those officials may disclose the contact information only to law enforcement officials and only for a missing student investigation.

If a student has registered a missing person contact, ASU will notify the contact no later than 24 hours after it has been officially determined that the student is missing. For students under the age of 18 and not emancipated, ASU will notify the student's custodial parent or guardian, as well as any other registered missing person contact, no later than 24 hours after a student is deemed missing.

The Missing Student Notification Policy is available at [SSM 1001-07][20].

Timely warnings and emergency notifications

Timely Warnings | ASU Crime Alert

To enable people to protect themselves, ASU Police issue timely warnings in the form of Crime Alerts to the campus community. These alerts notify students, faculty, staff, and visitors of the occurrence of a Clery Act crime that presents a serious or ongoing threat to the campus community. The alert is intended to aid in preventing similar crimes, enable people to protect themselves, and may seek information that may lead to an arrest or conviction of an offender.

The ASU Police Department is responsible for determining if a timely warning will be issued once notified a Clery Act crime has been reported to a campus security authority, local law enforcement, or directly to the ASU Police Department. Crime Alerts are disseminated using a variety of methods, which includes at a minimum, mass email and posting to the ASU Police website. All ASU email addresses are automatically subscribed to receive Crime Alerts via email. In addition, information may be shared using the following methods:

- ASU homepage messages.
- ASU Police media notification system.
- ASU Police website postings
- Facebook posts | @ASUPolice.
- ASU LiveSafe mobile app | available through Google Play, the App Store, or the ASU Police website.
- Media alert (Internet, print, radio, TV).
- Text messages.
- Twitter messages | @ASUPolice.

When deciding whether to issue a Timely Warning Crime Alert, the primary considerations are (1) the nature of the crime and (2) whether there is a continuing danger that members of the campus community may become victims of a similar or related crime.

[20] See SSM 1001-07: Missing Student Notification at https://www.asu.edu/aad/manuals/ssm/ssm1001-07.html

These Crime Alerts advise the community about violent crimes against persons, a series of crimes against property, or threats to persons or property to inform the community about potential risks and allow individuals to protect themselves against such risks. Crime Alerts may also provide details of the crime or threat, a description of the suspect (if known), information on whom to contact about the investigation, and crime prevention tips.

ASU Police works closely with individuals reporting serious crimes to ensure the victim's privacy, while also ensuring the community has adequate information regarding potential risks. The names and identifying information of victims will not be released in a Crime Alert.

ASU Police and security personnel at Lake Havasu have requested cooperation from local law enforcement by asking to be kept apprised of crimes that warrant a timely warning or an emergency notification. As a result, information for Crime Alerts can also come from other law enforcement agencies.

Likewise, ASU Police and security personnel at ASU's Washington, D.C. and Santa Monica, California campuses have requested cooperation from local law enforcement by asking to be kept apprised of crimes that warrant a timely warning or an emergency notification. In Washington, D.C. and Santa Monica, California, the local law enforcement agencies with primary jurisdiction for the ASU campuses are responsible for issuing crime alerts. ASU Police monitors the applicable law enforcement alerts to assess if they impact the campus community and whether a Crime Alert (timely warning) is warranted for the campus community.

ASU Police will release important Crime Alerts electronically to other ASU departments for internal distribution and will distribute bulletins and flyers to the ASU community using the methods listed. The variety of distribution methods used depends on the nature of the crime and the threat to the community.

ASU Police posts Crime Alerts online at http://bit.ly/ASUCrimeAlerts.

Local law enforcement agency crime bulletins:

Lake Havasu City distributes their crime bulletins via the Lake Havasu Mobile App, as well as the department website at http://bit.ly/LakeHavasuPolice, social media accounts, and news media.

Santa Monica Police department distributes their crime bulletins via the Santa Monica Alerts system available online at https://cityofsantamonica.bbcportal.com/Entry.

Washington, D.C. Metropolitan Police Department uses the AlertDC communications system to send alerts, notifications, and updates via email or text. Enroll online at https://hsema.dc.gov/page/alertdc.

Assistance in solving crimes:

Anyone with information relevant to a crime identified in a Crime Alert issued in the Phoenix Metropolitan area should contact ASU Police at 480-965-3456.

For the ASU Barrett & O'Connor Washington Center, contact the Metropolitan Police Department at 202-727-9099.

For the ASU California Center, contact the Santa Monica Police Department at 310-458-8491.

For the ASU Colleges at Lake Havasu, contact the Lake Havasu City Police at 928-855-1171.

Emergency Notification

Emergency notification is triggered by an event that is currently occurring on or imminently threatening the campus.

It is the university's policy to immediately notify the campus community of any confirmed significant emergency or dangerous situation posing a threat to the health, or safety of students, faculty, or staff, including, but not limited to, an armed intruder, an outbreak of serious illness, a fire or a chemical spill on campus. An emergency can be confirmed by any university official (i.e. University Housing staff, a faculty member, or building coordinator) using first-hand information which may include, but is not limited to, the presence of flames, sound of gunshots, noxious odors, video feeds of the area, activation of alarms, or the presence of several injured persons. The ASU Police Chief or designee will confirm that a significant emergency or dangerous situation exists, determine the emergency notification content, identify the segments of the campus community to receive the notification, and initiate the notification system, unless doing so will, based on the chief or the designee's professional judgement, compromise efforts to assist a victim or to contain, respond to or otherwise mitigate the emergency. ASU Police has the authority to issue emergency notifications, as it deems necessary, to maximize public safety.

For emergency response to fires and ill or injured persons, ASU relies upon the municipal Fire Department emergency services in the city where each campus is located. Therefore, the Incident Commander may be a member of the local fire department. They will use the Incident Command System but follow their own agency's policies and procedures while responding to the emergency. An Incident Commander has the authority on the scene and should be consulted to determine the content of the notification. There are other local, county, state and federal agencies which may be consulted during an emergency, such as FEMA during a dangerous weather event, or the Public Health Department to confirm a serious virus outbreak.

A determination regarding what segment of the campus community will receive the notification shall be based on the nature, severity, and location of the emergency. The same procedures will be used to notify the larger campus community.

Given the severe consequences that could result, every member of the community is encouraged to report emergencies immediately. Dial 911 to reach police. The police department answering the call will notify the police department with jurisdiction so emergency services can be dispatched. Your priority is to get to safety; your second priority is to call 911.

Notification Methods:

Depending on the nature of the emergency, methods that may be deployed include:

- ASU homepage messages
- ASU news page messages.
- ASU Police media notification system.
- ASU Police patrol vehicle public address system
- Crime Alerts.
- Door-to-door notifications.
- Emergency information hotline messages.
- Facebook posts | @ASUPolice.
- Freeway electronic billboards.
- Mass email.
- Media alert (Internet, print, radio, TV).
- Reverse 911.
- Text messages and broadcasts via the ASU LiveSafe app (must have the app to receive).
- Twitter messages | @ASUPolice.

All ASU email addresses are automatically subscribed to receive emailed emergency notifications, MyASU webpage alerts, and digital bulletin board posts. Because each situation will present individual challenges, some or all of these communication methods will be used in an emergency. Follow-up messages to the university and broader audiences such as parents and alumni will be sent as needed.

Notification Procedures:

Depending on the severity of the incident, ASU Police has the authority to send an emergency notification without prior approval. If the incident is a large-scale emergency, as determined by the incident commander – typically, the top fire or police official at the scene – the incident commander will be responsible for making these decisions. The entire campus community will be notified when there is at least the potential that a very large segment of the community will be affected by a situation, or when a situation threatens the operation of the campus as a whole. There will be a continual assessment of the situation, and if it is warranted, additional segments of the campus community may be notified.

For messages, other than those sent by ASU Police, it is the responsibility of the Vice President of Media Relations/Strategic Communications or designee to determine the content of the notification. The Office of Media Relations/Strategic Communications will coordinate with the university's Emergency Policy Executive, ASU webmasters, Dean of Students personnel, or other responsible parties as needed to ensure proper implementation of the methods determined to be appropriate for the incident at hand. The university's Emergency Policy Executive or designee approves the communication method and message. While ASU Police is the primary agency confirming significant emergencies on campus via notifications from 911 calls or personal observations by its officers or other security personnel, other departments at ASU such as Risk and Emergency Management or Environmental Health and Safety may also confirm a significant emergency.

The notification system's purpose is to provide brief and immediate instructions to the campus community and to provide other resources where additional information can be obtained. During an emergency, detailed information about an incident may be provided in other forms of communication, such as:

- Broadcasts via the ASU LiveSafe app; the app is available through Google Play and the App Store.
- Electronic media.
- Emergency bulletins issued through the media.
- Hotline.
- Mass email.
- Notification on the official ASU website.
- Text messages.
- Voicemail.

ASU Police work closely with surrounding police agencies to help facilitate the sharing of incidents reported to them that might constitute the issuance of an emergency notification.

Each year, the Office of Preparedness and Security Initiatives creates and schedules an exercise designed to drill procedural operations and exercise the coordination of efforts between first responders. Once the exercise is completed, first responders, observers, controllers, and evaluators participate in a debriefing, which is designed to capture immediate feedback of strengths and areas for improvement before leaving the site. An after-action meeting is generally held within two-to-four weeks of exercise completion where feedback, after-action results, controller/evaluator comments, and observations are reviewed.

The after-action report and "Areas for Improvement" documents are created using all of the data collected. The Office of Preparedness and Security Initiatives store these documents.

A test of the procedures shall be conducted at least once each calendar year. One test each year will include a link to the ASU Emergency Notification Policy [PDP 101-03][21] which is available online http://bit.ly/ASUEmergencyNotification and a link to the ASU Emergency Response Guide available online http://bit.ly/ASUERG. An actual incident in which the emergency notification system was activated shall not qualify as a test under this policy. Each test/incident shall be documented to include a description of the exercise/emergency, date, time, and whether announced or unannounced. Residence halls will have evacuation procedures and tests/drills at least semi-annually.

The Emergency Notification Policy [PDP 101-03] is available at http://bit.ly/ASUEmergencyNotification. To learn more about the university's emergency notification and advisory service, visit the website at http://bit.ly/2xqOmbw.

ASU Police has mutual aid agreements with surrounding police agencies and cooperates with these agencies to share information during emergencies or situations that may warrant an emergency response.

Cell phone users may register their cell phone or voice-over IP systems to receive Maricopa Region emergency notifications. Register your phone at http://bit.ly/MaricopaEmergencyNotifications.

Lake Havasu City uses the Lake Havasu Mobile App, department website http://bit.ly/LakeHavasuPolice, social media accounts, and news media to send emergency notifications.

The District of Columbia uses AlertDC to send alerts, notifications, and updates via email or text and users can specify the method(s) in which they want to receive the alerts and the types of alerts. Enroll online to receive D.C. alerts here https://hsema.dc.gov/page/alertdc or download the Everbridge app through Google Play or the App Store. The City of Santa Monica provides the community with emergency, outreach, public safety notices, and severe traffic warnings through the Santa Monica Alerts System. Alerts can be received via phone call, email, or text, and users can specify the method(s) in which they are received. Enroll online to receive Santa Monica alerts here http://cityofsantamonica.bbcportal.com/Entry. ASU Police monitors these alerts to assess if they impact the campus community and whether an emergency notification is warranted.

Emergency Response and Evacuation Procedures

University community assistants and University Housing staff members receive training each fall. Training includes a review of fire safety components to their building, expectations of the staff, evacuation procedures and their role, fire safety policies, and emergency assistance procedures. Staff members are also advised of what to expect during the annual fire safety inspection process. Additionally, fire protection staff members are available throughout the year to advise and counsel staff on fire safety issues or concerns. At the start of the fall semester, community assistants review evacuation procedures with residents during floor meetings. Fire drills are conducted quarterly to test evacuation procedures; they may be announced or unannounced.

The Educational Health and Safety Office conducts semiannual inspections of residence halls at the Downtown Phoenix, Polytechnic Tempe and West campuses to check for safety and health violations. For the ASU Colleges at Lake Havasu, Colliers International completes inspections. Noted violations are addressed, and the resident is advised of the purpose of the policy.

Emergencies, disasters, accidents, injuries, and crimes can occur without warning. Being prepared to handle unexpected emergencies is an individual as well as an organizational responsibility. The Emergency Response Guide is available to all students and employees online at http://bit.ly/ASUERG and was developed to assist with preparation for a tragic event. Please review this guide thoroughly before an emergency occurs. Acquaint yourself with the contents and keep it handy. Preparedness is often defined by how well you respond to and recover from an incident; be prepared.

[21] See PDP 101-03: Emergency Notification and Clery Timely Warning at https://www.asu.edu/aad/manuals/pdp/pdp101-03.html

Faculty, graduate students, teaching assistants, and staff review the Classroom Emergency Procedures Guidelines document during the first class meeting. The document can also be located online https://conhi.asu.edu/facilities/emergency-action-plans/classroom-emergency-procedures-guidelines.

Once an emergency has been confirmed, ASU will use the National Incident Management System to respond to the situation. NIMS is a program of the Federal Emergency Management Agency, which is a comprehensive approach to incident management and applies to emergencies of all types and sizes. The NIMS approach is intended to be both scalable and standardized to provide a coordinated, efficient response to each incident. Within NIMS, the Incident Command System provides a consistent chain of command, which has an Incident Commander as its leader. It may also have a multi-agency team, which is called Unified Command. This standardized system allows responding organizations to work effectively because they are using the same terminology to communicate and coordinate their response.

In the event of an emergency, ASU would activate in-house resources to include, but not limited to, a Behavior Response Team, a campus-specific Emergency Response Team, the Executive Team and the President's Policy Group. To support these groups, a command post, bridge line, or the emergency operations center will be activated. ASU provides in-house training through the Office of Preparedness and Security Initiatives.

ASU regularly communicates with many of the non-governmental agencies such as local power companies, water access and control agencies, hospitals, etc., by participating in preparedness organizations like the East and West Valley Emergency Management meetings, county and state preparedness summits, exercises, and a host of other gatherings.

Interaction with local, state, and federal law enforcement agencies occurs on a regular basis. For example, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Arizona Department of Public Safety, the City of Tempe Police Department, and several other agencies participate in planning meetings for and on-site operations during all home ASU football games and other large special events on or near ASU campuses.

In an emergency:

1. A university official confirms an incident; he or she contacts the police.
2. Police evacuate the affected area or direct people to shelter-in-place; students, employees, and visitors will be directed to a safe place.
3. Police set up perimeters to ensure students and employees are not entering an unsafe area and to allow for emergency response vehicles and personnel to handle the situation.
4. Police or ERT members activate a call-out of the ERT for the affected campus.
5. The ERT will activate the Executive Team to provide guidance to the ERT.
6. A conference call for ERT and/or the Executive Team is made; information is shared, the scale of and resources for mitigation and recovery is determined.
7. The ERT collects in a central location and uses ICS to form the planning, logistics, operations, and finance sections.
8. Departments activate a continuity of operation plan as needed.
9. The situation is contained by police and/or fire.
10. Police give an all-clear message that is sent to the community, and recovery begins.

The university relies upon the municipal fire department in the city where each campus is located. Therefore, during a fire, hazardous materials situation, or medical emergency, the Incident Commander may be a member of the local fire department. The IC will use the Incident Command System but will follow his or her own agency's policies and procedures while responding to the emergency. There are other local, county, state, and federal agencies, which may be consulted during an emergency, such as the Public Health Department being asked to confirm a serious virus outbreak.

Shelter-in-Place Procedures

What it means to "Shelter-in-Place"

If an incident occurs and the building(s) or areas around you become unstable or unsafe, or if the air outdoors becomes dangerous due to toxic or irritating substances, it may be safer to stay indoors. Leaving the area may expose you to that danger caused by high winds, limited visibility, and respiratory-related issues, to name a few. Thus, to "shelter-in-place" means to "make a shelter" using the building that you are in, and with a few adjustments, this location can be made even safer and more comfortable until it is safe to go outside.

Basic "Shelter-in-Place" Guidance

During an incident, if the building you are in is not damaged and still affords protection, stay inside. If possible, move to an interior room and away from glass or items that might become dangerous flying objects. Stay inside until you are told the area is safe by designated staff or it is obvious the incident has passed and no longer affords protection from the incident. Take your belongings needed for personal care (purse, wallet, medications) as long as it does not slow your exit. Follow the evacuation protocols for your building (close your door, proceed to the nearest exit, and use the stairs instead of the elevators, etc.). Do not remove personal items (e.g., pictures, computer, etc.) Once evacuated, seek shelter at the nearest safe building. Follow all instructions given by first responders if they are already on the scene.

How You Will Know to "Shelter-in-Place"

A shelter-in-place notification may come from several sources, including ASU Police, University Housing staff members, university officials, or other authorities using the university's emergency communications tools. Please note the following emergency communications examples:

- ASU homepage messages.
- ASU news page messages.
- ASU Police media notification system.
- ASU Police patrol vehicle public address system.
- Broadcasts via the ASU LiveSafe app; the app is available through Google Play and the App Store
- Crime Alerts.
- Digital bulletin board posts.
- Door-to-door notifications.
- Emergency information hotline messages.
- Facebook posts | @ASUPolice.
- Freeway electronic billboards.
- Mass email.
- Media alert (Internet, print, radio, TV).
- My ASU webpage alerts.
- Reverse 911.
- RSS feed
- Text messages.
- Twitter messages | @ASUPolice.

How to “Shelter-in-Place”

No matter where you are, these basic steps should assist and should be considered unless instructed otherwise by emergency personnel.

1. If you are inside, stay where you are. Collect any emergency shelter-in-place supplies you may need if you must evacuate immediately. Supplies will also include any items you may need if utilities are severed, and you must remain inside for a prolonged period. (e.g., a flashlight, extra batteries, etc.).
2. If you are caught outdoors, move quickly to the nearest undamaged building and take shelter.
3. If possible, your shelter area should be:
    a. An interior room.
    b. Above ground level.
    c. Without windows or with the least number of windows possible.
4. Shut and lock all windows (tighter seal) and close exterior doors.
5. Turn off air conditioners, heaters and fans.
6. Close ventilation system vents if able. University staff will turn off the ventilation as quickly as possible.
7. Turn on a radio or TV (if power is still available) and listen for more information about the incident.

Security and access to campus buildings and grounds

As a public university, many areas on ASU’s campuses are accessible to the general public 24 hours a day. Consequently, regardless of the time of day or night, and no matter where you may be on campus, it is important for you to be alert and aware of your surroundings and exercise personal safety at all times.

Electronic Card Access

As part of admission, all students are required to obtain an ASU student photo identification, the Sun Card. The ISAAC and Transaction Services Program provides university electronic card access via the Sun Card. Electronic access lodging data is used strictly for purposes of investigative incident management or may be anonymized for general reporting. It is prohibited for tracking individuals. All who manage the ISAAC system must comply with all acts associated with personal information outlined in the door access guidelines, procedures, and standards available on the ASU website https://cfo.asu.edu/door-access-standards.

The ASU Barrett & O’Connor Washington Center uses the ISAAC system. For system assistance, contact the security desk in the lobby or call 202-446-0380.

The ASU California Center uses the ISAAC system. For system assistance, contact the Office and Event Coordinator located at the California Center or call 424-229-9473.

Lost Campus Keys or Access Cards

If your campus keys/access cards are lost or stolen, report the loss immediately to your department and the ASU Key and Lock Services, by calling 480-965-3456 and to the ISAAC and Transaction Services Program desk at 480-727-1327 to turn off card access.

At ASU Colleges at Lake Havasu City, report lost keys or access cards to administrative staff in Santiago Hall or call 928-854-9705.

At the ASU California Center, report lost keys or access cards to Office & Event Coordinator located at the California Center or call 424-229-9473.
At the Barrett & O’Connor Washington Center, report lost keys or access cards to the security desk in the lobby or call 202-446-0380.

Video Security

The video surveillance of university areas is intended to deter and detect crime and assist in protecting the safety and property of the ASU community. Cameras used for security require maintenance by a central enterprise application, database, and private network and must meet the policy requirements in [PDP 201-06][22].

Non-Residential Buildings

Most campus buildings and facilities are open during regular business hours during the day and evening when classes are in session and events are occurring. At other times, university buildings are generally locked, and only faculty, staff, students and authorized individuals are admitted. Do not leave doors propped open or unlocked after hours.

The Academic Building Security program was started in 1998 to add a higher level of security to the academic buildings. Police aides patrol the academic buildings on foot on ASU campuses in the Phoenix metropolitan area. Police aides assist the patrol officers with their duties and provide, when available, safety escorts for university community members. Police aides assist with the security of the community by serving as the "eyes and ears" of the department.

For the ASU Barrett & O'Connor Washington Center, the ASU California Center, and the ASU Colleges at Lake Havasu, security patrols are completed by onsite contracted security and employees functioning in that capacity.

Residential Buildings

Approximately 11,000 students live on the ASU Tempe campus, 1,280 on the Downtown Phoenix campus, 1,250 on the Polytechnic campus, 550 on the West campus, and25 at the ASU Colleges at Lake Havasu. University Housing manages the residential facilities at the Downtown Phoenix, Polytechnic, Tempe and West campuses and Havasu Hospitality Partners, LLC, manages the ASU Colleges at Lake Havasu facilities. Access to all ASU residential facilities is restricted to residents and their guests. Residents are expected to comply with the hall visitation policy, to lock doors when leaving rooms, to close and lock outside doors when found open, to use only designated entrances to the facilities, and to deny entrance to non-residents and uninvited guests. Report non-compliance of these guidelines to your residence hall staff immediately.

Access to most residential facilities is governed by a minimum two-part process. The Lenel ISAAC system secures outside and building perimeters of most residence halls via electronic locks and can only be accessed by a valid Sun Card. Students' ISAAC system access is governed by their confirmed booking status in the University Housing management software. Individual units are additionally secured by a unique key issued to the student upon check-in. Vendors and affiliates are escorted when on the property or issued a temporary access card. Any temporary access that is granted is authorized by University Housing and controlled and audited on a daily basis.
Upon expiration of contract term or the student checking out of the housing unit, ISAAC access is deactivated. Any outstanding keys are reported as missing and the unit is rekeyed. Students are required to sign a housing license agreement acknowledging the above living policy.

[22] See PDP 201-06: Governing Electronic Safety and Security Systems at https://www.asu.edu/aad/manuals/pdp/pdp201-06.html

The police aide patrol provides additional security for students and staff at the ASU campuses in the Phoenix metropolitan area. The coordinated efforts of police patrols, police aide patrols, security officer patrols, and University Housing staff help to promote and increase awareness of safety issues. Information about security measures at individual campuses is available through the hall staff or from officers identified in this document.

Contracted security provides security for the students and staff at the ASU Colleges at Lake Havasu. Information about security measures at individual campuses is available through the hall staff.

Other ASU campus resources

Bicycle Registration

For the Downtown Phoenix, Polytechnic, Tempe and West campuses, Parking and Transit Services require all Sun Devils who bike on campus to register their bicycles with ASU. Bike registration is free and easy.

- Sun Devils may register their bikes at any campus PTS office or one of the Tempe campus bike valet stations.
- Registration may assist in recovering a bicycle in the event it is stolen and may deter theft because registered bicycles are kept on record with ASU Police.

For questions about bicycle registration, call the ASU Bicycle Program at 480-965-6124.

Some of the benefits registered cyclists enjoy include the use of the Downtown Phoenix and Tempe campus card-access bike-parking facilities, as well as expedited drop-off service at the free Tempe bike valet stations.

Parking and Transit Services

For the Downtown Phoenix, Polytechnic, Tempe and West campuses, ASU Parking and Transit Services offer the Motorist Assistance Program, which helps with a dead battery and assistance if car keys are locked inside the vehicle when parked in an ASU permit or visitor lot. To request motorist assistance via the ASU LiveSafe mobile app for Apple and Android devices, Open the app and follow these steps:

1. Choose “Report Tips.”
2. Select “Motorist Assist” tip type.
3. Enter your details and tap “send.”

Drivers may also call PTS customer service at 480-965-6124 to request assistance.

ASU Campus Maintenance

Downtown Phoenix, Polytechnic, Tempe and West Campuses

The Downtown Phoenix, Polytechnic, Tempe and West campuses are maintained by ASU Facilities Development and Management. FDM maintains and responds to reports of malfunctioning equipment within campus buildings and residence halls.

In addition to regular maintenance checks, ASU Police, Disability Resource Center, Educational Outreach and Student Services, Facilities and Development Management and Undergraduate Student Government representatives conduct campus-wide safety walks of the Downtown Phoenix, Polytechnic, Tempe, and West campuses twice annually. As a group, they walk the campuses identifying safety issues including, but not limited to, lighting, overgrown vegetation, disability access, building access, and hazardous environmental conditions.

To foster a safe campus environment, the ASU Police Department periodically consults with FDM about the maintenance and location of landscaping, foliage, and exterior lighting. To report deficiencies or request service:

For urgent on-campus facility needs in the Phoenix metropolitan area, 24-hours a day, seven days a week, call 480-965-3633.

For non-emergency requests, visit https://cfo.asu.edu/requests-for-service.

ASU Colleges at Lake Havasu City:
For non-emergency maintenance issues Monday through Sunday, students fill out a Residence Hall maintenance request and turn it in the Residence Hall Common Room, which is then forwarded on to maintenance. For maintenance emergencies, students contact the maintenance technician directly, who is on call at 602-725-0107. If there is difficulty contacting the maintenance technician, students may call the Resident Assistants who live on-site in #114 and #121 at 760-668-3043 and 213-590-4911.

Taylor Place Residents:
Taylor Place residents can submit maintenance requests by calling the Taylor Place Office at 602-496-6711 or by stopping by during office hours. The office is open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m., Monday through Friday, and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. during the academic year; and from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday during the summer. Residents can also submit maintenance requests via email to living@asu.edu.

After office hours, residents can report a maintenance emergency to the Taylor Place Security Desk in person or by calling 602-496-6746.

Weapons prohibited on campus

Possession or storage of weapons at any ASU residential housing facility is prohibited. Possession, use, or storage of weapons on land and in buildings owned, leased, or under the control of ASU or its affiliated or related entities is prohibited, except as provided for in A.R.S. § 12-781. This prohibition extends to all ASU vehicles present on any property owned or controlled by ASU or an ASU affiliate or related entity. All prohibitions also apply to the ASU campuses in California and Washington D.C.

ASU students and employees are required to report known and suspected violations of the weapons policy to ASU Police immediately. For the ASU Colleges at Lake Havasu, violations are reported to security staff. For the ASU O'Connor & Barrett Washington Center, violations must be report to the security desk. For the ASU California Center, violations should be reported to the ASU California Center Facility and Event Manager at 424-229-9473.

Failure to report as required may result in sanctions under applicable Arizona Board of Regents and/or ASU policies governing student and employee conduct. [PDP 201-05][23]; [ABOR 5-303(3)][24], [ABOR 5-308][25].

Participants or attendees at public or special events held on campus or at university facilities may be required to submit to security checks as a condition of entry at the discretion of the event sponsor.

Definitions and Restrictions

As defined in [ABOR 5-308], a "Weapon" refers to any object or substance designed to (or which could be reasonably expected to) inflict a wound, cause injury, incapacitate, or cause death, including, without limitation, all firearms (loaded and unloaded, simulated and real), devices designed to expel a projectile (such as bb guns, air guns, pellet guns, and potato guns), swords, knives with blades of 5 inches or longer, martial arts weapons, bows and arrows, and chemicals such as tear gas.

A "weapon" includes a dangerous instrument that, under the circumstance in which it is used, attempted to be used, or threatened to be used, is readily capable of causing death or serious injury.

In California, it is also unlawful to possess, on a university campus, a knife with a blade length over 2.5 inches, a dirk, a dagger, or an ice pick. A dirk or dagger means a knife or instrument with or without a handguard that is capable of ready use as a stabbing weapon that may inflict great bodily injury or death. (Penal Code 626.9-10)

Washington, D.C. has very strict gun laws. Even if off campus, a person may not lawfully possess an unregistered firearm.

Exceptions to the weapons policy are only those exceptions that are statutorily permitted in each jurisdiction, e.g., peace officers currently employed by a law enforcement agency and engaged in the performance of official duties may carry a firearm.

Witness a Crime Involving a Weapon?

If you are a witness to a crime involving a weapon, call 911 immediately. If you see a weapon of any kind on campus, alert the police by contacting the corresponding campus police department.

For the ASU Barrett & O'Connor Washington Center, contact the Metropolitan Police Department at 202-727-9099.

For the ASU California Center, contact the Santa Monica Police Department at 310-395-9931.

For the ASU Colleges at Lake Havasu, contact the Lake Havasu City Police Department at 928-855-1171.

For the Downtown Phoenix, Polytechnic, Tempe and West campuses, contact ASU Police Department at 480-965-3456.

Reporting hate crimes and incidents

Hate crimes are not separate distinct crimes, but instead involve any traditional criminal offense that is committed against a person or property that is motivated by a victim's actual or perceived race, religion, ethnicity, national origin, gender identity, or sexual orientation. ASU takes a strong stance against hate crimes, violent acts, property damage, intimidation, and threats because of a person's perceived personal characteristics.

In accordance with the First Amendment to the U.S. Constitution, hate groups and individuals have the right to exist, assemble, and express their views. However, they do not have the right to break any laws.

[25] See ABOR 5-308: Student Code of Conduct at https://public.azregents.edu/Policy%20Manual/5-308-Student%20Code%20of%20Conduct.pdf

Any speech that threatens violence or physical harm to specific persons or groups may constitute a crime. Most verbal and written expression is constitutionally protected, so racial slurs or derogatory speech is not enough to be considered a crime.

Hate crimes will not be tolerated or dismissed as “pranks” or “bad behavior.” Hate crimes should be reported to the appropriate university departments and organizations so proper follow-through can occur. Immediately report any hate crime incident.

Witness a Hate Crime?

Reporting hate crime is a key part of stopping such acts. If you or someone you know reports a hate crime, the matter will be taken seriously. A thorough investigation will be conducted and, if evidence warrants, administrative and/or criminal proceedings will follow.

Call or report the hate crime incident to police at 911 for an emergency or contact the corresponding campus police department:

Disciplinary action: students, staff, and faculty

Students

Guided by ASU's commitment to excellence, access, and impact, the Office of Student Rights and Responsibilities supports a safe and inclusive environment that fosters the intellectual, personal, social, and ethical development of all students. In partnership with university departments and programs, SRR helps students see themselves as responsible members in a diverse community. SRR provides students with the opportunity to consider how their conduct may define and impact their college experience – personally and in a relationship with others.

SRR investigates student misconduct allegations and determines whether a violation of the Student Code of Conduct[26] has occurred. Students who are found responsible for violations of the Student Code of Conduct are encouraged to reflect on their behaviors through the use of educationally based interventions that assist the students in making informed choices and developing in a holistic manner.[27]

Incident Reports are accepted from students, faculty, staff, or other persons who believe that a student or a student organization may have violated the ABOR Student Code of Conduct. Fill out and submit the incident report to the Office of Student Rights and Responsibilities on the respective campus eoss.asu.edu/dos/srr/filingreport. For ASU Colleges at Lake Havasu, ASU Barrett & O'Connor Washington Center, and ASU California Center, complete the report and submit it online.

No appointment is required to pick up or drop off an Incident Report.

SRR staff may also initiate a review under the Student Code of Conduct based on police reports, applicable news stories, or other forms of documentation. ASU consistently meets weekly with Tempe Police to identify students involved in off-campus criminal conduct, including criminal conduct arising out of the off-campus activities of those student organizations officially recognized by the university, including student organizations with off-campus housing facilities.

Additionally, any relevant information about any student, found in the course of a review, may also be deemed a complaint and may be pursued accordingly under the ABOR Student Code of Conduct. The ABOR Student Code of Conduct and Student Code of Conduct Procedures can be found at eoss.asu.edu/dos/srr/codeofconduct.

Faculty and Staff

ABOR or ASU policy violations may result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination for staff and faculty and are further defined in the following policies:

- SPP 808: Performance Management for University Staff is available online https://www.asu.edu/aad/manuals/spp/spp808.html
- SPP 809: Discipline available online https://www.asu.edu/aad/manuals/spp/spp809.html

The Office of University Rights and Responsibilities is available to investigate and resolve allegations of discrimination, harassment, or retaliation in violation of ACD 401[28] (including all forms of sexual misconduct involving faculty, staff, and other ASU affiliates. All complaints of such conduct are taken seriously, and appropriate action will be taken to hold violators accountable and to prevent any recurrence.

The employee grievance process is fully explained in ASU Policies [ACD 509-02][29], [ACD 509-03][30], and P20[31].

Arizona state university policy on substance abuse

Under the federal Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act Amendments of 1989, no institution of higher education is eligible to receive funds or any other form of financial assistance under any federal program, including any federally funded or guaranteed student loan program, unless it has adopted and has implemented a program to prevent the use of illicit drugs and the abuse of alcohol by students and employees. See ASU's Statement on Drug-Free Schools and Campuses, and ASU's Drug and Alcohol Prevention Programs notification, in Appendix A.

To achieve this goal, ASU prohibits the unlawful use, possession, production, manufacture, and distribution of alcohol, controlled substances, and other drugs SSM 106-03[32], SPP 315[33], ACD 119[34], and ACD 122[35]. This includes, but is not limited to, a prohibition on the possession and consumption of alcohol in university housing.

The ASU Police enforce Arizona's laws against underage drinking, public consumption, and furnishing alcohol to underage individuals. See A.R.S. §§ 4-241, 4-244, 4-246. California and Washington, D.C. also have similar, tough alcohol laws regarding underage drinking and furnishing alcohol to underage individuals. See CA Business and Professional Codes §§ 25658, 25662; CA Penal Code § 647; CA Vehicle Code §§ 21200.5, 23136; see also, D.C. Code §§ 25-1001, 1002; D.C. Code §§ 25-781, 25-785.

Arizona, California, and Washington, D.C. have some of the toughest drug laws in the country. ASU Police enforce all state drug laws as provided in the ASU Police Services Manual. Information on Arizona drug laws and sentencing can be found at https://www.azleg.gov/arsDetail/?title=13; see A.R.S. §§ 13-3401 to 13-3461. Local law enforcement, campus security staff, and administrators enforce drug laws at ASU's campuses in California and Washington, D.C. Information on California drug laws and sentencing is at https://leginfo.legislature.ca.gov/faces/codes_displaySection.xhtml?lawCode=HSC&sectionNum=11350; see CA Health and Safety Code Division 10, Chapter 6, §§ 11350 – 11651. Information regarding District of Columbia drug laws and sentencing is at https://code.dccouncil.us/dc/council/code/titles/48/chapters/9/; see D.C. Code §§ 48-901.01 – 48-907.03; 48-1101, 48-1103.

incarceration. Although several states have passed laws permitting some use of marijuana, federal law still prohibits the use or possession of marijuana. The Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act Amendments of 1989 requires any post-secondary education institution that receives Title IV funding to comply with all federal laws and regulations regarding use and possession of illegal drugs, including marijuana. See 20 U.S.C. § 1011i; 34 C.F.R. § 86.1. As a result, marijuana is prohibited on all property, which is ASU owned or controlled.

DUI or driving while impaired by alcohol, prescription medication, including medical marijuana, over-the-counter medication, or illegal drugs is dangerous and a crime. Be smart, don't drive under the influence!

ASU provides honest, factual information through numerous programs to assist individuals in making informed, responsible decisions regarding the use of alcohol and other drugs. Information regarding the health risks associated with the use of alcohol and other drugs, and the availability of drug awareness, drug education, and assessment programs for employees and students can be found through Wellness at ASU, ASU Health Services, ASU Police Crime Prevention Unit, Employee Assistance Office, and ASU Counseling Services.

Alcohol and other drug education, aimed at preventing underage drinking, high-risk drinking, and drug abuse, is provided by the ASU Police Crime Prevention Unit and ASU Wellness. Education includes programs like Recovery Rising, which offers a social support network and sober activities to connect with and engage students in recovery, and includes events, open roundtable discussions, and campus AA meetings. ASU's Step Up! Program is designed to enhance students' understanding of how to intervene when someone is in harm's way and addresses drug and alcohol abuse issues. Other ASU classes and presentations can be found in the Ongoing Prevention and Awareness Programs chart in this report.

ASU Police partners with University Housing staff to present annual alcohol and drug awareness training for students living on campus. The format may include, but is not limited to, a presentation involving "Beer Goggles," an in-hall event designed to provide an alternative to drinking alcohol, discussions of myths surrounding drinking, an overview of legal penalties for violating state liquor laws, and/or a discussion regarding administrative penalties under the Student Code of Conduct.

Copies of substance abuse policies are available from the Office of the Senior Vice President for Educational Outreach and Student Services (480-965-2200). Detailed information regarding illegal possession, use, and distribution of drugs and alcohol can be viewed online at wellness.asu.edu/explore-wellness/body/alcohol-and-drugs.

For employees, it is a violation of university policy to possess, consume, or be under the influence of alcohol while on duty [SPP 801]. Employees found to violate a drug or alcohol policy (including student employees if the circumstances warrant) may be subject to corrective action, up to and including dismissal from employment under applicable university policies. Students in violation of Arizona Board of Regents or ASU policy regarding drugs or alcohol on campus will be subject to educational interventions, administrative action, and/or disciplinary sanctions (i.e., suspension or expulsion).

Anyone who violates local, state, or federal law regarding alcohol or other drugs, including the illegal possession of drug paraphernalia, or who otherwise engages in illegal conduct related to the illegal use of drugs or alcohol is subject to prosecution and punishment by criminal and civil authorities. This is in addition to educational interventions, administrative action, disciplinary sanctions, or loss of employment through the university. A schedule of substances and sanctions under federal law is available at https://www.dea.gov/factsheets. See 21 U.S.C. §§ 841, 844, 853, 862, 881; 18 U.S.C. § 922.

Statistical Overview

The crime statistics in this report have been compiled in accordance with definitions taken from the Federal Bureau of Investigation Uniform Crime Reporting Handbook as required by Clery Act regulations and modified by the Hate Crime Statistics Act and Campus SaVE Act.

The data relates to all reported crimes occurring on any ASU campus, including residence halls, as well as relevant non-campus property and public property as these terms are defined in the aforementioned Geographical Definitions. Also included are crimes reported to ASU Police by its officers, the local law enforcement agencies having primary jurisdiction, and other university personnel who have significant responsibility for student and campus activities. Although asked to do so, not all law enforcement agencies responded to or were able to provide statistics as required for Clery Act reporting.

In 2017, ASU students stayed overnight in hotels, campgrounds, or hostels while traveling with officially recognized groups and clubs. Letters were sent to the applicable police departments in each jurisdiction, requesting Clery Act data, for these stays that required Clery Act reporting.

If rape, fondling, incest, or statutory rape occurs in the same incident as a murder, ASU will record both the sex offense and the murder in the statistics.

Incidents and arrests occurring in On-Campus Student Housing Facilities are duplicated in the On-Campus totals and are not in addition to them.

For stalking, ASU records a crime statistic every year in which the course of conduct is reported to a local policy agency or a Campus Security Authority. ASU also records each report of stalking as occurring only at the first location within ASU's Clery geography in which a perpetrator engaged in the stalking course of conduct or a victim first became aware of stalking.

[36] The ASU Thunderbird campus closed in 2018, moving its operations to the ASU Downtown Phoenix campus.

The statistics for drug, liquor law, and weapons violations are related to actual offenses occurring on campus property.

Violations Referred for Disciplinary Action are the result of alleged criminal offenses, which did not result in an arrest but were referred to other responsible university officials for administrative investigation and possible disciplinary action, administrative action, or educational intervention.

Statistics for the Washington, D.C. and California campuses are reported as non-campus properties for 2017. In 2018, both locations experienced growth and were reassessed and categorized as separate ASU campuses.

Crimes that have not been reported to the ASU Police, a campus security authority, or an aforementioned law enforcement agency are not reflected in the following tables. For this reason, everyone is urged to report crimes for Clery Act purposes.

Information on the definitions of crimes and/or the specific campus properties referenced in the statistics may be obtained from ASU Police.

Other Statistical Considerations

For the following crimes, the reporting law enforcement agencies did not provide sufficient detail regarding the incidents to determine whether the offense was Clery Act reportable:

Reporting Law Enforcement Agency/Department	Clery Crime Category/Count	Clery Act Analysis
Arizona State University Police Department	Fondling – 1	ASU Police received a report of a fondling, which occurred within a location leased by ASU meeting the reporting requirements of an on-campus residential location. Based on the limited information provided, ASU Police is unable to determine if the incident occurred within the leased locations or common areas.
Los Angeles Police Department	Burglary – 2	Los Angeles Police Department reported two burglaries, which occurred within non-campus residential locations. Based on the information provided, ASU is unable to determine if the incidents occurred within the leased location or common areas.
Phoenix Police Department	Aggravated Assault - 1 Burglary – 12 Domestic Violence – 5 Drug Law Arrests – 6 Motor Vehicle Theft – 1 Rape - 3	Phoenix Police Department reported multiple statistics, which occurred within non-campus locations and locations leased by ASU meeting reporting requirements of on-campus residential locations. Based on the information provided, ASU is unable to determine if the incident occurred within the leased locations or common areas.
Scottsdale Police Department	Aggravated Assault – 1 Burglary – 1 Drug Law Arrests – 15	Scottsdale Police Department reported multiple statistics, which occurred within non-campus locations. Based on the information provided, ASU is unable to determine if the incident occurred within the leased locations or common areas.
Tempe Police Department	Aggravated Assault - 1 Fondling – 1 Other Sexual Offense – 1 Sexual Assault - 2	Tempe Police Department reported a fondling, which occurred within a location leased by ASU meeting the reporting requirements of an on-campus residential location. Based on the information provided, ASU is unable to determine if the incident occurred within the leased locations or common areas.
ASU Health Services	Sexual Assault – 5	Five sexual assaults were reported to ASU Health Services, which submitted de-identified reports to the Clery Act Compliance Coordinator. For those five incidents, the Clery Act Coordinator was unable to determine whether the incidents occurred within Clery geography. Accordingly, these incidents are not included in the statistical reporting tables but are being provided for statistical consideration.

Unfounded Crimes

Pursuant to the Violence Against Women Reauthorization Act regulations, an institution may withhold, or subsequently remove, a reported crime from its crime statistics in the rare situation where sworn or commissioned law enforcement personnel have fully investigated the reported crime and, based on the results of this full investigation and evidence, have made a formal determination that the crime report is false or baseless and therefore “unfounded.” Only sworn or commissioned law enforcement personnel may “unfound” a crime report. The recovery of stolen property, the low value of stolen property, refusal of the victim to cooperate with the prosecution, and the failure to make an arrest do not “unfound” a crime report.

Annual Fire Safety Report

ASU Police publishes this fire safety information as part of its annual Clery Act compliance document, which contains information on the fire safety practices and standards for ASU. This report includes statistics concerning the number of fires in on-campus student housing facilities, the cause of each fire, the number of injuries and deaths related to a fire, and the value of the property damage caused by a fire. The Annual Security and Fire Safety Report is available for review 24 hours a day on the ASU Police website at http://police.asu.edu. A physical report copy may be obtained free of charge by request from the ASU Police by calling 480-965-3456 or stopping by any of the ASU Police Department locations.

If a fire occurs in any ASU building, immediately call 911. Police can summon the fire department quickly through a direct-dial phone communication link to the jurisdictional fire dispatch centers.

If an ASU community member finds evidence of a fire that has been extinguished, and the person is not sure whether ASU Police has already responded, the community member should immediately call ASU Police at 480-965-3456 to investigate and document the incident. For example, if a Community Assistant finds evidence of a fire in a trashcan in the hallway of a residence hall, the Community Assistant should not touch the trashcan and should report the incident to ASU Police immediately and wait for an officer's response. The officer will document the incident before removing the trashcan.

For the ASU Barrett & O'Connor Washington Center, D.C. Metropolitan Police will respond to investigate and document the incident; call 202-727-9099.

For the ASU California Center, the Santa Monica Police Department will respond to investigate and document the incident; call 310-458-8491.

For the ASU Colleges at Lake Havasu, the Lake Havasu Police Department will respond to investigate and document the incident; call 928-855-1171.

Fire alarms alert community members of potential hazards. Community members are required to evacuate buildings immediately upon hearing a fire alarm in a facility. Use the nearest stairwell and exit the building immediately. Do not use the elevator. Community members should familiarize themselves with the exits in each building. Police may arrest those who fail to evacuate a building promptly – but more importantly, evacuate, so you are safe. When a fire alarm is activated, the elevators in most buildings will stop and will be available for emergency responders with key access only. Occupants should use the stairs to evacuate the building. If you are caught in the elevator, push the emergency phone button. The emergency phones in elevators on campus will ring to the ASU Police Communications Center or another emergency call center.

The ASU Environmental Health and Safety Department completes audits at the Downtown Phoenix, Polytechnic, Tempe and West campuses to ensure fire safety code compliance of all university facilities. At the ASU Colleges at Lake Havasu, the contracted property management company coordinates with the Lake Havasu City Fire Marshal and the ASU Fire Marshal to ensure annual inspections are completed. In the event of a fire, a hazardous material incident, or other required emergency response, the local municipal fire department will respond to provide emergency and non-emergency services.

Fire Logs

In compliance with the Higher Education Opportunity Act, the university provides fire statistics and a fire log with details of each fire that occurs on campus in an on-campus student housing facility. To view the daily fire logs for the Downtown Phoenix, Polytechnic, Tempe and West campuses, which are available for review 24 hours per day, visit https://cfo.asu.edu/crime-logs and select the "Fire Logs" tab. The fire logs are also available for review at the ASU Police Department in the lobby at the Tempe campus. The daily fire log for the ASU Colleges at Lake Havasu City can be view by visiting the Santiago Hall Reception desk at 100 University Way.

The fire log documents fires that occur in on-campus student housing facilities. Information about the nature of the fire, date and time of the fire and general location of the fire is included.

No daily fire log is maintained for the ASU Barrett & O'Connor Washington Center or the ASU California Center. These campuses do not have on-campus student housing facilities.

Fire Protection Equipment/Systems

A majority of university buildings are equipped with automatic fire detection and alarm systems that are constantly monitored by ASU Police staff. Refer to the Fire Safety Amenities in the subsequent chart for information about fire detection, notification, and suppression systems in each residential facility.

Procedures for Students and Employees in the Event of a Fire

Find the nearest pull station and sound the central alarm if applicable. Shut all doors and windows in the vicinity of the fire. If the fire is a small beginning-stage fire, consider using fire extinguishers to put it out if properly trained and certified in ASU's Annual Fire Safety Training. Exit by the nearest safe stairway. Do not use the elevators. Do not run.

Fire Safety Tips

Buildings are equipped with a variety of features designed to detect, stop, and/or suppress the spread of a fire. A door can be the first line of defense against the spread of smoke or fire from one area to another. Some doors, such as fire doors in corridors or stairwells of residence halls, are designed to stand up to fire longer than those of an individual room. It is important that these doors are CLOSED for them to work. Additionally, if a door has a device that automatically closes the door, it should NOT be propped open. Sprinklers are 98- percent effective in preventing the spread of fire when operating properly. DO NOT obstruct the sprinkler heads with materials like clothing. Smoke detectors cannot do their job if they are disabled or covered by the occupant, which is a university policy violation.

Fire Safety Education and Training

Fire safety education and training for residential life students and support personnel are provided quarterly, in person, in the form of fire drills. The drills include announced and unannounced and are conducted by the ASU Fire Marshal's Office. Additionally, all ASU employees are required to attend Fire Safety Training conducted by Environmental Health and Safety personnel upon hire and to take in-person or online refresher training annually.

University Documentation and Manuals

Contact the ASU Fire Marshal for access to the ASU Fire Prevention and Safety Plan, which is provided as a general guideline for residential life facilities and does not cover all code compliance issues. If you have any questions, concerns, or need additional information, contact the ASU Fire Marshal at 480-965-1823 or email the University Fire Marshal's Office.

For the ASU Colleges at Lake Havasu, contact the Business Operations Specialist at 928-854-9730.

For the ASU Barrett & O'Connor Washington Center or ASU California Center, please refer to the University Fire Marshal's Office Fire Prevention and Safety Plan for a basic understanding of code requirements as it relates to fire safety at your campus. Further guidance can be provided by contacting your campus Facilities Management/Property Management responsible party; contact information is located at the front desk in the lobby of each facility. Any items not clarified may be directed to the University Fire Marshal's Office.

University Housing Guidelines for Fire Safety

ASU's Residential Life supports the student population with living quarters on the university's various campuses. ASU must monitor all operations and living quarters for safety and ensure compliance with all applicable federal, state, and local codes, standards and ordinances, e.g., Building Codes, Fire Codes, and Occupational Safety and Health. ASU Environmental Health and Safety is responsible for inspecting and coordinating with each unit representative within Residential Life to promote a safe environment and operation.

The following guidelines have been prepared for university personnel to facilitate the proper use and operation of congregated residential facilities on university property.

Fire and Safety Inspections

The university continues to assess and upgrade fire and life safety equipment/systems as an ongoing process to ensure all equipment meets applicable codes and standards. The Office of the University Fire Marshal performs Residence Hall Fire and Safety Inspections regularly and conducts facility fire drills four times a year, on a quarterly schedule for the Downtown Phoenix, Polytechnic, Tempe and West campuses. Fire Drills are scheduled and announced only during the beginning of the fall semester; all other fire drills are unannounced. The EHS inspections are performed to identify and eliminate fire and safety hazards. The inspections include, but are not limited to, a visual examination of electrical cords, sprinkler heads, smoke detectors, fire extinguishers and other life safety systems. In addition, each room will be examined for the presence of prohibited items (e.g., sources of open flames, such as candles; portable cooking appliances in non-kitchen areas; etc.) or prohibited activity (e.g., smoking in the room; tampering with life safety equipment; etc.).

At ASU Colleges at Lake Havasu, the contracted property management company coordinates with the Lake Havasu City Fire Marshal and the ASU Fire Marshal to ensure annual inspections are completed. In the event of a fire, hazardous material incident, or other required emergency responses, the local municipal fire department will respond and provide emergency and non-emergency services.

General Safety

State and federal regulations specifically require the university to maintain facilities in a manner that promotes a safe environment for occupants to enter and exit a facility, as well as safe operations and use of the facility. The following guidelines will assist Residential Life and Housing Services in assuring each facility's exit system is appropriately used and maintained:

1. Any material used in lobbies, corridors, stairwells, or other common areas shall not obstruct the exit passageway and must be of non-combustible material, made of fire-resistive material, or is fire retardant treated.
2. Exit signs must be operational and visually unobstructed (illuminated appropriately).
3. Decorations are prohibited near any heat source. Distance from heat sources can only be determined by evaluating the area, decorative materials, and determining the heat source's capabilities.
4. Follow the manufacturer's recommendations for installation and use when using authorized equipment, installing equipment, or any temporary structure, display, or device.
5. Contact ASU Environmental Health and Safety at 480-965-1823, before initiating any project related to construction, remodel, special event, and anything that involves the use of the exit system other than normal traffic ingress and egress. An exit system includes lobbies, corridors, hallways, exit doors, stairways and exit passageways. For the ASU Colleges at Lake Havasu, also contact ASU Environmental Health and Safety at 480-965-1823.

6. Maintain clear, unobstructed view and operation of any fire protection device (smoke detectors, heat detectors, manual fire pull stations, audible-visual devices, fire sprinkler heads, fire panels, and special fire suppression systems/apparatus).

Electrical Safety

The following guidelines must be assured whenever electrical equipment, lighting, or any electrical wiring is used or affected by decorative materials or displays:

1. All electrical equipment and lighting must be tested and approved by a recognized testing laboratory, e.g., Underwriters Laboratory.
2. All appliances and lighting must be inspected for damage and operability before use.
3. Use appliances and lighting as approved and recommended by the manufacturer. Lighting must be mounted in a manner that will not damage the wiring or be damaged by other equipment. Use of transparent adhesive tape to adhere wiring to walls or the use of hooks to drape wiring is acceptable for temporary conditions and if approved by Environmental Health and Safety or the ASU Fire Marshal.
4. Running electrical cords through doorways or any openings through walls, ceilings, or floors is prohibited.
5. Extension cords must be at least a minimum of 16-gauge or heavier with a ground three-prong and cannot run in series.
6. The use of multi-plug adapters is prohibited. (Exception: Any adapter or cord that has an operational circuit breaker is acceptable for more than one appliance as long as it is used within the manufacturer's recommended use, design, and load capacities.)

Christmas Trees and Other Plant Life

Below are, ASU Fire Marshal, and other code requirements to follow whenever decorating or displaying materials using any plant life for the interior or exterior of a facility:

1. Cut Christmas trees are prohibited. Only fire-retardant artificial trees or "live" trees – root type in soil – are acceptable. Live trees must be checked daily and watered as needed.
2. Trees shall not be located in any manner that will block or obstruct an exit or passageway. Only approved lighting shall be used on trees. Ensure all electrical wiring is in good condition and connections are secure.
3. Any decorations on or around the tree must be non-combustible or properly treated with fire-retardant material.
4. Palm fronds and any other cut vegetation are prohibited unless approved by EHS or the ASU Colleges at Lake Havasu, for specific temporary use and only after verification that all vegetation is fire-retardant treated. (Exception: Cut flowers are acceptable for temporary display in a personal area as long as it does not create a fire hazard.)

Candles, Open Flames and other Heat Sources

Any item used for decoration, display, or personal use that generates or emits heat must comply with the following guidelines:

1. Use of candles, open flames, and burning are prohibited in all university buildings. (Exception: Authorized "hot work" by qualified maintenance personnel and only if temporary approval is granted by the ASU Fire Marshal).
2. Use of any heat-generating product or equipment must be used as recommended by the manufacturer.

Temporary Structures

Temporary structures are facilities designed for temporary use or defined as temporary construction, such as trailers and tents. Each temporary structure must comply with the following:

1. Trailer, tents, temporary walls or ceilings constructed of any materials must be approved by the ASU Fire Marshal.
2. From any point, a minimum of a 2-A:10-B:C-rated fire extinguisher must be within a 75-feet travel distance for light-to-moderate hazard areas, and 30 or 50 feet for high hazard areas (based on the type of hazardous operations for the area). Travel distance cannot include steps, through secured doors, or any special conditions that restrict the user in obtaining the fire extinguisher and returning to fight the fire.
3. Special fire protection measures may be necessary for events to meet the requirements of the International Building and Fire Codes. These measures are determined by submitting the purpose and all pertinent information relating to the temporary structure to the ASU Fire Marshal.

Emergency Planning and Evacuation Procedures

Emergency plans and drills are necessary for all facilities to help ensure a safe, effective, and efficient evacuation. Residential Life/ASU Housing facilities require an emergency plan for each facility that includes quarterly fire drills (one will be unannounced; a no-notice fire drill).

Each staff working and/or residing in residential halls must be aware of the emergency plans, how to execute an evacuation, and proper notification procedures for prompt emergency response. The plan includes floor plans indicating exit locations, telephone numbers for emergency contact of occupants and responders, all egress notification procedures, evacuation procedures, and assembly area for accountability.

During the first week of each semester, Community Assistants in the residential facilities review the fire safety policies and evacuation procedures with students living on the floor. Evacuation maps are posted on every floor to inform students, and guests of the nearest exit locations.

Evacuation procedures:

1. During an emergency, i.e., fire alarm, all persons should proceed toward the nearest safe emergency exit.
2. On the ground floor, persons with physical disabilities, if able, should exit the building along with other building occupants.
3. On floors above or below ground level, persons with mobility impairments (any impairment which renders an individual unable to exit the building on their own) may need assistance evacuating because elevators are not operable. Individuals who can walk may be able to evacuate themselves; however, walk with the person to assist if necessary. If you can, accompany the individual to a safe place (i.e., Emergency Evacuation Rescue Area, which is a corridor near an exit stairwell or inside the stairwell). Whenever possible, someone should remain with the person while another individual exits the building and notifies emergency personnel of the exact location of the person needing assistance. If you cannot accompany or remain with the individual, you should proceed directly out of the building and to emergency personnel to notify them of the exact location of the person needing assistance. DO NOT attempt to carry an individual out of a building. You could hurt that individual and yourself. Evacuating individuals who cannot exit the building due to any condition, for example if the individual uses a wheelchair or walker, will require the individual go to an Emergency Evacuation Rescue Area.
4. Emergency Evacuation Rescue Area: Unless otherwise designated, this will be at the top of the stairwell landings on every level above or below exit grade level in any building.

   Note: It is important for persons with disabilities to work with the instructor, professor, teaching assistant, facilitator, director, supervisor, co-worker, co-student, or residence hall staff to pre-plan for any special considerations required for evacuation that are not included in this guideline.

Persons with Physical Disabilities Evacuations

Faculty, Staff and Student Responsibilities:

- You are responsible for planning for your emergency evacuation. Familiarize yourself with the fire evacuation routes and plans for every floor where you live, work and the classroom you are attending. Know where the available exits, pull stations, evacuation routes and areas of refuge are located.
- If you will need assistance with evacuation, first identify the areas of refuge on the floor of your living space, office, or classroom. Second, plan to use a "buddy system." Staff should connect with a co- worker; students should connect with another student, residence hall community assistant, or their instructor. Inform your buddy of your needs. Your buddy will be responsible for notifying emergency personnel of the exact location where you are waiting for rescue.
- When an evacuation does occur, everyone should notify emergency personnel of any known students or staff with disabilities they believe are still in the building.

Smoke Free Campus

Almost three-fourths of all fires caused by smoking material is the result of a cigarette being abandoned or disposed of carelessly. Being smoke-free at all ASU campuses reduces the chances of smoke-material fires. Given the amount of storage and trash that can accumulate across all ASU campuses, there is a high risk for these easily avoidable fires. The implementation of a smoke-free campus has kept ASU clear of any reported smoke-material fires.

Fire Safety Improvements

ASU continues to monitor fire and life safety trends across all buildings and property. ASU also developed a list of capital improvement projects that are evaluated to be put into action items to upgrade systems and buildings via the University Fire Marshal's Office – the FMO Emergency Life Safety Improvement account, which also provides emergency repairs. The FMO provides Automated External Defibrillators in all new construction. Additionally, FMO upgrades fire alarm systems, automatic sprinkler systems, hood systems, etc., when there is a reported issue that is deemed a safety hazard based on evaluation of the system(s).

ASU Statement on Drug-Free Campuses

In accordance with the Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act Amendments of 1989 (Act), Arizona State University (ASU) is distributing this notification to all students and employees to inform them of ASU's comprehensive program to prevent the use of illicit drugs and the abuse of alcohol. This notification summarizes ASU's programs, resources, policies, and standards of conduct; discusses health risks; highlights treatment options; and provides an overview of sanctions.

Standards of Conduct

It is the goal and policy of Arizona State University to provide a drug-free environment for all university students and employees. To achieve this goal and to comply with federal law, ASU prohibits the unlawful sale, manufacture, distribution, dispensation, possession, and use of controlled substances on ASU property or as part of any of its activities.

Students, faculty, staff and visitors of any ASU campus, whether in Arizona, California or the District of Columbia, are advised to become familiar with federal, state and local laws regarding alcohol and other drugs in accordance with the campus location. Students, faculty, staff, and visitors on any ASU campus must: 1) abide by ASU policies regarding alcohol abuse and illicit drugs; 2) abide by local, state and federal laws regarding alcohol, drugs, and controlled substances; and 3) act to reduce the risks associated with the use and abuse of these substances. ASU students and employees are subject to all applicable drug and alcohol policies including, but not limited to:

- Arizona Board of Regents (ABOR) 5-301, Code of Conduct
- ABOR 5-308, Student Code of Conduct
- ABOR 6-913, Drug Free Workplace

- ASU Policy SPP 801, Employee Conduct and Work Rules
- ASU Policy ACD 119, Drug-Free Workplace Requirements

Drug and Alcohol Abuse Prevention Programs

Disciplinary Sanctions, Educational Interventions, and Administrative Actions

Students

Students who violate the Board of Regents' or university drug or alcohol policy are subject to disciplinary sanctions, educational interventions and/or administrative actions. Disciplinary sanctions include expulsion or suspension. Educational interventions may include the requirement to participate in individual or group learning sessions, community service experiences and/or risk assessments addressing alcohol or other drug abuse. Administrative actions may include warnings, probation, interim suspension, or completion of a drug or alcohol education or rehabilitation program. Violators may be referred for prosecution.

Employees

Sanctions will be imposed on an employee who violates university drug or alcohol policies, which may include progressive discipline, a written reprimand, suspension, demotion, or termination of employment. Sanctions may also include the requirement that the employee complete a drug or alcohol education or rehabilitation program. Violators may be referred for prosecution.

Health Risks

Alcohol

Alcohol consumption causes a number of marked changes in behavior. Even low doses significantly impair the judgment and coordination required to drive a car safely, increasing the likelihood that the driver will be involved in an accident. Low to moderate doses of alcohol also increase the incidence of a variety of aggressive acts, including spouse and child abuse. Moderate to high doses of alcohol cause marked impairments in higher mental functions, severely altering a person's ability to learn and remember information. Very high doses can cause respiratory depression and death. If combined with other depressants of the central nervous system, much lower doses of alcohol will produce the effect just described. See https://ifap.ed.gov/regcomps/attachments/86.pdf.

Repeated use of alcohol can lead to dependence. Sudden cessation of alcohol intake is likely to produce withdrawal symptoms, including severe anxiety, tremors, hallucinations, and convulsions. Alcohol withdrawal can be life-threatening. Long-term consumption of large quantities of alcohol, particularly when combined with poor nutrition, can also lead to permanent damage to vital organs such as the brain and the liver. See https://ifap.ed.gov/regcomps/attachments/86.pdf.

Mothers who drink alcohol during pregnancy may give birth to infants with fetal alcohol syndrome. These infants have irreversible physical abnormalities and mental retardation. In addition, research indicates that children of alcoholic parents are at greater risk than other people of becoming alcoholics. See https://ifap.ed.gov/regcomps/attachments/86.pdf.

Illicit Drugs

The use of illicit drugs can lead to a variety of health risks, depending on the drug or combination of drugs used. A description of common drugs of abuse, their uses and effects are provided in Appendix B. For further information, visit the campus drug prevention website at https://www.campusdrugprevention.gov/drugs.

- Establishes goals, specific outcomes and relevant strategies that are grounded in campus specific data.
- Implements evidence-based strategies and best practices.
- Incorporates education, environmental management, early intervention and enforcement strategies.
- Integrates proactive prevention and intervention strategies.
- Develops collaborations and coalitions, and forms partnerships with academic and student affairs, management, students, parents and the surrounding community.
- Incorporates evaluation as a meaningful tool for planning and program improvement.

Limits on Alcohol Availability:

ASU policy limits alcohol availability. ASU Policy SMM 106–03: Alcohol and Other Drugs on Campus provides details pertaining to the following:

Drug and Alcohol Abuse Prevention Programs

- Alcohol is not permitted in the residence halls, except in family housing (Polytechnic only) and then only for those age 21 and older.
- No alcohol may be served on ASU campuses or ASU's off-campus locations like the Kerr Cultural Center, unless it is served at a designated special event pursuant to the Arizona Board of Regents' policy 5-108 with approval by the President.
- Events cannot serve alcohol unless a completed permit to serve alcohol is on file with the ASU Police Department prior to the event.
- Residence halls require key-card access for entry to reduce trafficking of alcohol by older students and non-students into freshman housing facilities.
- All research activities requiring the dosing of subjects with alcohol or other drugs are subject to the ASU Human Subjects Institutional Review Board.

Other policies, laws and activities designed to reduce alcohol abuse include:

- Arizona driver's license for persons under age 21 is formatted differently.
- Hours for alcohol sales are limited by the state.
- Arizona law requires all alcohol servers to receive mandatory training.
- The City of Tempe enacted a "Large Party Ordinance" (social gatherings or events with five or more attendees) that applies significant fines if the police respond to more than one complaint involving a large party at a given residence within 90 days.

Limits on Marketing and Promotion of Alcohol:

ASU limits marketing and promotion of alcohol by the following methods:

- ASU Student Media advertising policy allows the editorial board to refuse ads unsuitable for their publications. Advertising in student publications can be rejected or edited if it "encourages behavior or indulgence that is immoderate or excessive."
- Local beer distributors have voluntarily agreed not to place ads in student publications. The alcohol industry is not permitted to sponsor events and sports competitions at the Sun Devil Fitness Complexes. ASU policy restricts the use of alcohol industry logos and signage for campus programs sponsored by the industry.
- ASU policy restricts the number and type of ads and flyers that can be posted on-campus kiosks. Ads that promote drinking in a high-risk context are subject to removal. For frequent violations, the business may receive a visit by an ASU police officer to discuss the policy.

Policy Development and Enforcement:

ASU develops and enforces Alcohol and Other Drug (AOD) policies to reduce the risk of harm and illegal activity among its students and employees. ASU policies and local laws address the following:

- On-campus functions must be registered.
- Inspection of on-campus functions by the Arizona Department of Liquor Control or officers from the police department may occur at any time.
- A university representative must be present for campus functions where alcohol is served.
- Disciplinary sanctions for violation of AOD policies are consistent across all ASU campuses.

Drug and Alcohol Abuse Prevention Programs

- Arizona has developed strict laws regarding underage use of alcohol and illicit drugs that are enforced with heavy penalties.
- Arizona has passed a law requiring servers to obtain server training to educate them about legal liability and reduce service to patrons who are over-consuming.
- ID checks at off-campus bars and liquor stores are enforced.
- Laws against buying for minors, using fake IDs, and DUIs are enforced.
- Roadblocks are implemented, particularly on and near holiday weekends.
- Open house assemblies are restricted (Tempe's large party ordinance).
- Dram shop laws are enforced.
